

Kish Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter Charge For Killing of Markis

Sixty-four Year Old Sayer Will Probably Spend Rest of His Life in Prison for "Triangle" Murder Feb. 28.

ASKS LENIENCY

Grogan Says Circumstances Surrounding Slaying Will Never Be Known but Kish Was Justified.

Alexander Kish, 64 year old father of George Markis, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora Thursday afternoon by County Judge Frederick G. Traver. The minimum term is 10 years and the maximum 20 years and as William H. Grogan, counsel for Kish, pointed out this sentence practically means life for the aged man.

Sentence was imposed after Markis had withdrawn his former plea of not guilty to murder, second degree, as charged in the indictment, and entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter, first degree. Mr. Grogan asked that the court show leniency to the elderly man and told the court that there were "mitigating circumstances" which while they perhaps did not warrant the taking of a human life must appeal to all red-blooded men. He said that the case apparently was another "triangle" case in which the defendant had been robbed of his home and wife and that while there was some provocation for the act perhaps in the eyes of the law this was not true.

"It will never be known just what did happen down there on lower Hasbrouck avenue on February 28, last," Mr. Grogan said. There was an element of self defense in the matter at least he said. According to Kish he claims he was attacked by Markis when he entered the place. Never in his long experience at the bar had he been faced with a case which gave him so much anxiety. He said he had no one to confer with until recently when Kish's son came to talk over the matter. While he received no compensation for his work and did not expect any Mr. Grogan said he had applied much time and effort to the matter and had given it much thought. It has been agreed that a conviction for murder, second degree, would unquestionably be a life sentence for the old man and he had endeavored to show to the district attorney that acceptance of the manslaughter charge would probably result in the same end but Mr. Murray had finally agreed to accept a plea of guilty to manslaughter rather than put the county to the cost of a trial.

His Second Wife
"There is no doubt but this woman caused the murder," said Mr. Grogan. "She was his second wife. He married when she had two small children and he worked and provided for them until they were grown up and able to care for themselves. They lived at Woodridge, N. J., until the depression came and he lost his work. Then she abandoned him and came to Kingston and she resided in the same house as this man who was murdered," continued Mr. Grogan.

He said that as the case went to trial he had letters and proof which would show that the aged man had not only reduced the cost of defendant, broken up his home but letters and post cards mailed in Ellenville to friends could be produced to show that Mrs. Kish had written stating that she and Markis were on their honeymoon.

Mr. Grogan said that Kish had tried to get his wife to return home when she did not come he came seeking her. He entered the old Federation House where Markis lived and where Mrs. Kish had rooms and when he entered Grogan said Kish was attacked with a hatchet. In defense Kish shot Markis and then struck him with the hatchet. "This man who is dead, what he deserved," concluded Mr. Grogan. He said that probably the killing was not legally just but it was only what Markis was entitled to.

After Mr. Grogan's plea Kish was observed to remove his glasses and wipe his eyes several times but he stood up under the ordeal remarkably well for a man of his years who was facing life imprisonment.

Murray Agrees.

District Attorney Murray stated that he had investigated the case very thoroughly and he was going to agree to the manslaughter plea because of two things. One that to try the case would take at least two weeks and bring a great expense to the county, and secondly, because of the fact that Kish was a man of 64 years and while his age was no excuse for a killing, the sentence imposed under a manslaughter plea would result in practically a life sentence to the old man. In convicted of second degree murder the court would have to impose a minimum term of 20 years and that sentence would be academic, he never would serve out that term. Mr. Murray said that there was probably some provocation for the act but not in the eyes of the law. It was true that it was another "triangle" case and just what did happen probably could not be told. Kish pleaded self defense and said he was attacked but the fact remained that a life was taken and he argued that in accepting the plea of guilt to man-

EXPECT 50,000 PEOPLE TO SEE COLLEGIATE REGATTA

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Upwards of 50,000 persons are expected to view the Intercollegiate Rowing Association Regatta on the Hudson here tomorrow afternoon and the advance guard of the crowd is already arriving by train, auto and boat. However, the big rush will not start until tomorrow morning and authorities are already making preparations about traffic.

Parking will be prohibited along the main thoroughfares and in the principal streets but will be permitted elsewhere in the city. The other shore of the river will be the favorite spot to witness the event but there is no place overlooking the river where autos will be permitted to park. Parking on the new bridge and it approaches will not be permitted nor will spectators be allowed to remain there.

County Government Reform Fight to Be Made In Legislature

Attempt Will Be Made At Special Session of State Legislature To Reform County Government—Chance To Advance Cause.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—A fight for general county government reform will be made at the special session of the legislature called for next month, it was agreed at a conference here yesterday between Senator Seabury C. Mastick, a legislative leader in the reform movement and Daniel J. Kenefick, who as chairman of the Erie county survey commission has been studying the problem for more than a year.

The special session, called for "on or about July 10," was intended particularly to consider reform in the county system in New York city.

Senator Mastick and Judge Kenefick, however, agreed the session was an opportunity to advance the cause of general reform by an entire year.

Senator Mastick said if the question were acted on by the special session, the 1935 regular session could take the second legislative action necessary and a constitutional amendment opening the way for county home rule could then be put before the voters in the fall of 1935.

The senator asked yesterday's conference, in an effort to iron out differences in his proposal for reform and that of Judge Kenefick. Both proposals were shelved by the last legislature.

PRESIDENTS SON GETS JOB AS VICE-PRESIDENT

New York, June 15 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt, 23-year-old son of the president, has a new job: Vice-President of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

He will devote his full time to the position, said the chamber's announcement of his selection, made at a meeting of the organization's board of governors last night.

Young Roosevelt has been an officer of advertising agencies, a rancher, vice-president of an airline and an aviation editor since his graduation from the Hun Preparatory School, Princeton, N. J., in 1930.

He is now in Fort Worth, Tex., with his wife, the former Ruth Goggins, and their month-old daughter, visiting his wife's family.

Treasury Receipts.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The position of the treasury on June 13 was: Receipts, $10,868,944.62; expenditures, $12,658,423.91; net balance, $1,826,111,761.50; customs receipts for the month, $9,385,502.47.

Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $2,872,342,509.24; expenditures, $6,611,640,440.89 (including $3,722,556,457.17 for emergency expenditures); excess of expenditures $3,739,297,931.65; gold assets, $7,419,907,171.72.

Il Duce And Hitler Review Parade

Venice, June 15 (AP)—Determined to put a thorough and fruitful conclusion to their intimate conversations, Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini met early this morning.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—A mountain of war debts labored today and brought forth a mouse in the form of a payment from Finland.

By a scratch of the pen, the National City Bank in New York transferred $166,505 from the account of the little nation to the big one.

That was all the hard cash the United States received of $477,543,644 due today from 13 nations. Hungary put a certificate for $36,971 in pengos in its national bank, crediting it to the United States. But officials could not figure any way to draw against it.

Finland, as always, paid in full. Officials hoped the $165,535 would cover the cost of messengers, postage, cable tools and diplomats' time expended in an attempt to collect the June installments of the total debt of $11,628,000,000.

The drawing of this almost payless payday found the war debt score: 10 defaults, 1 payment, 2 to be heard from.

Yugoslavia ($825,000) and Lithuania ($369,034) planned to deliver notes explaining their expected defaults during the day.

The Italian, Polish, Rumanian, and Hungarian envoys called on Secretary Hull yesterday to inform him of the decisions to forego payment. The Latvian and Estonian "so sorry" notes came by mail.

Great Britain, France, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia had previously announced they would not pay.

"Debts Are Dead"

Paris, June 15 (AP)—France's fourth debt default today brought forth more comments that "debts are dead."

Premier Gaston Doumergue, former Premier Edouard Herriot and other leaders think it necessary to have another "final" settlement with a heavy reduction but in parliament are many who think the debt problem has settled itself.

When France failed to pay the $59,000,218.57 due today she became $141,093,759.44 in arrears. Her debt of $4,025,000,000 funded April 29, 1926, remains after six years of paying and two years of defaulting, about $2,000,000 less than it was.

The United States, in its 62-year payment plan, requested by France, figured interest at about 1.6 per cent. Although interest on the Liberty Loan Bonds is much higher, financial experts estimate that eventually the average interest will be about three per cent. On that basis, the reduction of the French debt would be about 32 per cent.

Last year, in Parliament there were suggestions the United States should cut the debt to ten cents on the dollar because the Lausanne Settlement with Germany provided for reparations payments at about that rate. Since few have hopes Germany ever will pay reparations again, there is growing in France a movement for disregard of the debts to America.

Ignore Roosevelt

France ignores President Roosevelt's suggestion, in his message to Congress, that debtors might devote some of their armament expense to settling their war bills. Instead, she is proceeding with an emergency outlay of nearly 2,000,000,000 francs to fortify against Germany, sum that is more than enough to pay the $141,093,759.44 of the four defaults.

In the eight years since the Mellon-Berenger Treaty was signed, France has trimmed down the balance due about one-half of one per cent. At that rate it would take 1,200 years to settle the bill.

Germany Seeks To End Reparations

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)

Berlin, June 15—Competent observers professed to see today in Germany's suspension of payments on all her foreign debts a significant move to end reparations, and, ultimately, the treaty of Versailles.

Doubt was expressed that the payments would be resumed at the expiration of the moratorium's six month period, reliable sources pointing out that complete abolition of reparations is an essential point in the Nazi program.

Swift reprisals by other nations against the Reich appeared likely, dispatches said. Great Britain and France were reported to be considering plans to protect their bondholders, possibly by withholding commercial payments due Germany.

Speculation over the fate of the mark, rife for the past few weeks, was met by a Reichsbank statement that "we will keep the mark stable, and we have the power to do so."

The latest available figures, for September, 1933, show that Germany's foreign debt totaled 7,436,000,000 marks (approximately $2,974,000,000).

Airplane Crash Data Has Been Turned Over to Have Impartial Board Ulster District Attorney Act on Steel Industry

Documents and Exhibits Held By Sullivan County Coroner Now in Possession of Authorities in Ulster County.

NO ACTION ON INQUEST

Whether Murray Will Call Inquest Will Be Determined on Report of Agencies.

Thursday afternoon Dr. Victor G. Bourke, Sullivan county coroner, turned over to Sergeant John Hopkins of the State Troopers the various documents and exhibits which he has held in his possession since the crash of the American Airliner on Mongaup mountain last Saturday when seven people were killed. This act came after it had been determined that the crash took place in Ulster and not Sullivan county. All of the exhibits were turned over to District Attorney Cleon E. Murray here late in the afternoon.

During the afternoon Dr. Bourke called District Attorney Murray by phone and announced that he was turning all of the exhibits over to Sergeant Hopkins and that he would give the Ulster county authorities any assistance which he could.

The surrender of the documents and exhibits came after the Sullivan county coroner had given out many interviews and advanced many theories as to the cause of the crash, some of which were startling to say the least. Without jurisdiction in the matter, he turned all of the evidence in his possession over to Ulster county and closed the case so far as Sullivan county is concerned.

Whether District Attorney Murray will call an inquest will be determined on the report of the Department of Commerce and the report of the airline's investigators as well as that of the Federal government. The Department of Commerce has experts who probe plane crashes and have had wide experience along those lines. On that report will depend further action.

Dr. Bourke finding himself without jurisdiction was compelled to call off his inquest which he had scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

Included in the exhibits which were turned over to District Attorney Murray are two suitcases of passengers, one intact and the other scorched by the fire which followed the crash of the plane against Mongaup mountain 200 feet from the summit.

Thursday Mr. Murray was in communication with relatives of passengers in the plane. One call from Niagara Falls being received during the afternoon while Mr. Murray was engaged in court. He asked Judge Traver to excuse him for a moment while he answered the call.

The Navy Department announced Thursday that the papers and documents which were found in the grip of the Buffalo chemical engineer were not of "vital importance." The papers and vials of crystals which were found in the Bader grip were turned over by navy authorities to the U. S. District Attorney of the Southern District. The papers are termed by the navy as not of a secret nature.

EX-SOLDIER WHO ATTENDED OWN FUNERAL, IS 63

Weaverville, N. C., June 15 (AP)—Captain W. Elbert Weaver, an old confederate soldier who once took time out during the war between the states to go to his own funeral, will celebrate his 63rd birthday tomorrow at a family picnic.

It was in the "Knobs" in East Tennessee that Captain Weaver was "killed." He was color bearer for the 29th North Carolina volunteers and in a brush with Union troops the color bearer for one of the companies was killed.

Word went to Captain John H. Robinson that it was Weaver who had been slain. The message was forwarded to the family. Then Weaver showed up and the commander told him he'd better go home to straighten things out.

He went. As he approached the family place, the servants fled, thinking he was a ghost. The family had been assembled for the funeral, the neighbors had just finished digging the grave in the churchyard and his father had left for the boys.

"Yes, siree," the captain mused, "that gives a fellow a queer feeling, one that he isn't likely to forget."

3 PRISONERS TAKEN TO CLINTON STATE PRISON

Abram Molyneux and Claude Markle left this morning for Clinton State Prison at Dannemora with three prisoners recently sentenced to that institution in county court. The prisoners who were transferred to the prison were Alexander Kish, who will serve from 10 to 20 years for the murder of George Markis in this city, William Ten Erck, who will serve five years for forgery and Peter Pilifka, who was sentenced to 7 1/2 years for attempted arson.

Great Slave Colony.

Baltimore, June 15 (AP)—Germany was described today by S. Miles Bodon, exiled journalist, as "a great slave colony, governed by such an aggregation of, in part, honest fanatics, in part, ignorant, stupid and brutal men, as never before controlled the destinies of a great nation."

Labor Leader Says President Might Choose Three Men To Adjust Differences on Steel Code and Disputes.

CRY "STRIKE NOW"

Youthful Delegates Insist on Immediate Action Not Talk as Solution to Demands.

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—A plan for settlement of the disputes in the steel industry was submitted by President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today at the Steel Workers' Convention called to take action on the proposed nation-wide strike.

The labor leader suggested "an impartial board" of these members be appointed by the President to adjust differences over the steel code and mediate other disputes.

The workers shall maintain the right, he said, to organize freely and the board would have authority to hold elections among employees to choose collective bargaining representatives.

If the plan is acceptable to both sides, the strike should be called off he told the 200 delegates attending the meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

Unreserved Support

He pledged the union the "unreserved support" of the Labor Federation.

The first reaction of the delegates was that the plan submitted by Green differed in "several particulars" from the Roosevelt plan.

Convention To Decide

Pittsburgh, June 15 (AP)—Cries of "Strike now" sounded today as union representatives of the men who toll before the furnaces filed into convention to say whether there shall be a nationwide strike in the great steel industry.

The strike demand came insistently from a group of youthful delegates.

Many observers predicted, however, that unless the strike advocates are able to bring a vote on the issue before nightfall, their cause will be seriously affected.

The union is paying only transportation costs and many of the delegates may be unable to remain over Saturday. In addition, the hour of the walkout, if ordered, may be between midnight Friday and noon Saturday. This would necessitate an immediate return home of the leaders.

The highly technical parliamentary procedure in the hands of the conservative 72-year-old president, Michael F. Tighe, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers assembly first will hear William F. Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green is expected to advise moderation—delay—before a resort to the strike. Tighe has thrown hints that a presidential message would be helpful to "harmony."

"Sign or Strike."

The self-styled "rank and file" are demanding "action, not talk." Their committee of ten, headed by Earl J. Forbeck of McKeesport, Pa., promulgated and pushed through the "sign or strike" ultimatum demanding "reconciliation" which 38 of the 250 delegates reported yesterday was refused by the steel operators.

While the union's sessions are closed to the public and newspapermen, reliable sources said Tighe pointed out in his 20-minute talk yesterday the Amalgamated is bound to contract with some companies not to call a strike until June 30.

Tighe's refusal to permit James F. Dewey, U. S. Labor Board mediator, to address the convention, was interpreted by some to mean he did not want the "revised" Wagner bill proposed this week by the administration to get on the floor.

Claims of membership in the Amalgamated vary from 140,000 set by Tighe to more than 300,000 named by Forbeck. The iron and steel institute figures set the industry's steel workers at approximately 431,600.

Floods In The South Add New Problem For Federal Relief Men

ARE WEDDINGS AN INDICATION THAT DEPRESSION ENDS

If weddings are an indication that the corner had been passed in the depression it might be noted that the city clerk's office since the first of the year has issued 95 wedding licenses as against the 90 issued for the corresponding period in 1933. This is an increase of three, and would indicate that young folks are taking a somewhat brighter view of affairs. The let us trust, recent depression has proven one thing to the satisfaction of many and that is that there is not much truth in the old adage that two can live as cheaply as one. The majority of licenses issued so far this year are to members of the younger generation.

Elmendorf Named To Succeed Finerty As Legion Commander

Lester C. Elmendorf Named as Choice to Head Legion by Nominating Committee—Veterans of Foreign Wars Present at Meeting.

Lester C. Elmendorf, who has long been active in American Legion circles, was named by the nominating committee of Kingston Post of the American Legion for the office of commander at the election to be held in July, at a meeting of the Legion held Thursday evening. Others named by the committee were P. Joseph Beichert, Eugene Freer and Meyer Kaplan for vice commanders; E. J. Hillis for treasurer; Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., for adjutant; Lester Barth, historian; the Rev. Clarence E. Brown for chaplain; Edward Coughlin, athletic officer; and Michael Bruno for sergeant-at-arms.

A delegation of about 30 members of the Joyce-Schrick Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, attended the Legion meeting as a result of an invitation that had been extended them. It was the first time since the two organizations were formed that the members of one group were invited to attend a regular meeting of the other group. The V. F. W. members were welcomed by Commander John J. Finerty of Kingston Post, and Martin J. Oulton, past commander of the Joyce-Schrick Post, responded.

The Poppy Day drive committee reported that a total of $521.87 had been received; that the expenses amounted to $175, leaving a balance of $346.87.

Judge Charles de la Vergne and Walter J. Miller will present medals to the grade school pupils having the best marks in elementary United States history this year. Members of Kingston Post have donated prizes for this purpose for the past few years.

It was announced that a radio show would be staged in the Municipal Auditorium on July 7, and that several entertainers from WGY of Schenectady would take part, and that auditions would also be given to amateurs, and that the three prize winners of the audition would be given further auditions at the WGY studio.

The Legion Drum Corps will head Weiner Hose Company in the firemen's parade in Saugerties next Thursday and when they return will give a parade in Kingston before disbanding.

New Admiral And "Punch" Command

New York, June 15 (AP)—Admiral Joseph Mason Reeves and "Punch" today assume command of the United States fleet.

Admiral Reeves has been in command of fighting men and fighting ships for 40 years.

"Punch" has been in command of Admiral Reeves for six years.

Today the admiral, in formal ceremonies aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, succeeds Admiral David Foots Sellers as the highest ranking naval officer afloat. "Punch," the admiral's bull terrier, will not be present at the formal ceremonies but in the new flag quarters aboard the U. S. S. New Mexico, designated by the new commander-in-chief as flagship of the fleet, he will be waiting for the admiral so that the two may "carry on" together.

Admiral Reeves assumes his new command with "the greatest respect for the men of the fleet who are each doing the work of more than one man. Even in the face of insufficient personnel, the courage and morale of the men of the fleet has never been greater."

"As a matter of fact, I would say that the condition of the fleet has never been better."

Bermuda For Debt.

London, June 15 (AP)—A proposal that Great Britain turn over Bermuda or some other islands near the American coast to the United States as a "payment in kind" on war debts will be made in the House of Commons next week by Captain Arthur Evans, a Conservative.

Relief Administrator Says Serious Situation Is Developing in South

In Drouth Section The Agriculture Department Reports That the Damage To Crops Is Rapidly Spreading.

ALLOTMENTS MADE

Hopkins Denies That Administration Plans To Take Over Factories Through the Country.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Floods in the South were added today to drouth in the West as a problem for Federal relief workers.

Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administrator, said a serious situation apparently was developing in portions of South Carolina where there have been heavy rains.

In the drouth section the Agriculture Department today notified Hopkins that six more counties had been added to the drouth area in Nevada and the same number in New Mexico. The drouth was reported to be spreading.

Hopkins said there are now 221,000 people employed on work projects in the drouth areas digging wells, building dams, working on schools and roads and in South Dakota building houses on farms to which many farm families will be moved out of the drouth section.

Hopkins also made known the allotment of $25,000 to Connecticut for general unemployment relief.

New York was allotted $5,333,158 including $5,000,000 as a first installment on the June relief program; $148,977 for transient relief; $74,779 for the re-employment service; $50,926 for student aid; $5,600 for teachers' training institutes for workers' education; $40,906 to pay May obligations; and $12,000 for completion of the public works of art project.

Hopkins today took occasion to publicly deny published reports that the administration plans to take over factories throughout the country. He asserted the relief authorities have been promoting production of goods by the unemployed for their own use and cited the fact that in North Carolina last year 11,000,000 cans of vegetables were packed out of surplus.

"You fellows know me well enough," he said, "to know that if we had been planning to take over idle factories we would have had lots of them spinning long ago."

DALL HAS NOTHING TO SAY ABOUT HIS WIFE

New York, June 15 (AP)—Curtis B. Dall today said he had no comment to make on the establishment of a residence in Reno, Nev., by his wife, Mrs. Anna Curtis Dall, daughter of President Roosevelt.

Dall was seen as he was going down in an elevator from his fourteenth floor offices in a building at Broad and Beaver streets, in the financial district. He is a partner in the brokerage firm of Fenner, Beane and Underleider.

Informed of Reno dispatches, Dall said he had "no comment." Then he asked: "Did you see the prize fight last night?"

Before an answer to his question could be given, Dall said "I'm very busy, very busy," stepped out of the elevator and hurried away.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY KILLED BY CHINESE

Peiping, China, June 15 (AP)—The United States legation made swift representations to Chinese authorities for the slaying early today of Dr. J. H. Ingram, 75-year-old American missionary, as he attempted to shield his wife and grandchildren from bandits.

Dr. Ingram was shot to death in his summer bungalow on the outskirts of Peiping, before the eyes of his horror-stricken family. A veteran of the Boxer siege, he had been in China for 56 years. Dr. Ingram was attached to the American Board of Missions.

Mayors' Conference Selects Syracuse

Mayor C. J. Heiselman, who has been attending the state mayors' conference in Jamestown, is expected back in Kingston late today. The mayor made a determined fight to have the conference select Kingston for 1935, but Syracuse was chosen by the convention. Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk has also been attending the conference with the mayor. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who on Saturday was honored by being chosen as president of the State Fire Chiefs' Association in convention in Jamestown is driving the mayor back to Kingston. Both men left Kingston on Monday morning and motored to Jamestown where they arrived that afternoon.

St. Ursula Academy Closing Exercises Are Held, Honors Given

On Thursday afternoon at four o'clock the closing exercises of the elementary department of the Academy of St. Ursula at Marygrove occurred, with the academy auditorium filled to its very doors with the families and friends of the pupils of the school and those graduating from the department.

Daisies and wild roses decorated the auditorium and also the altar-like background of the stage before which the exercises took place. The graduates, Elizabeth A. Bennett, Irene M. Cuff, Helen A. Donovan, Margaret R. Gannon, Nan H. Ingalls, Rosemary T. Lenihan, Rose C. Norton and Joan E. Wilson also carried armfuls of daisies.

As the curtains parted after a piano prelude, a lovely picture was presented by the young girls in their white frocks and blue ribbons and their armfuls of flowers. The chorus sang "The Children's Hour" words by Longfellow—by M. B. Ehrmann. The lovely quality of tone and clearcut diction together with fine training and interpretation made the chorus a treat to musical ears.

"Our National Key" was the next number given by pupils from the different grades of the Elementary Department and it was very clever. Two of the older girls standing high against the altar held a large, handsome American flag. With beating of drums several of the youngest girls came marching in the buglers' uniforms of America. Taking the lead of the scale, first one and then the other of the flag bearers, took note of what each letter stood for in loyalty to country, and the entire group sang about it. When the scale had been finished and the National Key had been given, the buglers and drummers marched off the stage triumphantly and amidst great applause.

Then came a piano duet, "Peacock," by F. Schiller, played very nicely by Peggy Schilling and Master David Lundy.

When the curtains parted again Elizabeth Bennett appeared to tell La Fontaine's story of "The Hare and the Tortoise," as it was about to be presented in French. Not only were the hare and the tortoise (in costume) present, but some six or eight little bunnies with their long white, pink-lined ears who had a little drill while poking but steady tortoise came nearer and nearer to the "beautiful cabbage" and the "bunch of carrots," and little Mr. Hare hopped and jumped about and finally lost the prize. It was all very clever.

Another chorus that pleased everyone with its grace and sweetness was "Wynken, Blynken and Nod" by Eugene Field.

One of the most attractive numbers was "The Rainbow Drill" by a group of girls with rainbow tinted scarfs, and a tiny lass who danced through the colors very daintily.

Miss Peggy Schilling played remarkably well the piano solo, "Avalanche" by S. Heller.

The children's part of the program came to a very happy finale with the singing of the last chorus, "The Wind Miff" by M. B. Ehrmann.

Then came the thrilling distribution of prizes, premiums and honorable mentions.

Finally the Rev. Dean Stanley addressed the graduates, congratulating them on having concluded this part of their educational work so commendably and also congratulating them on the fact that all would, in the fall, return to the academic department.

The dean told the children, that they too had been the pieces of stone—living—upon which the sisters had been working through their school years as sculptors. But the Master Sculptor, God, was the one who would always be carving out beautiful figures of character in their lives, and in their childhood the sisters were beginning their training in the religious life which would guide them all their way. Having finished their work so well Dean Stanley hoped they would all enjoy a happy, hearty vacation—holiday or holy day—under the protection of God and the Holy Mother and return for the re-opening of the academy on September 10.

Two New Doctors, Man And Wife, Locate Here

Dr. Marjorie Elizabeth Moore Parsons and Dr. Charles E. Parsons have located their home and office for the practice of medicine and surgery at 165 Maiden Lane, Kingston.

Dr. M. E. Moore Parsons is a graduate of the University of California in arts and of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Medicine. She also did post graduate work at the University of Vienna.

After her internship at the Highland Hospital in California she was assistant director of the Western Clinical Pathological Laboratories in Oakland, California for two years. She was director of the Clinical and Pathological Laboratories and medical assistant at the Notre Dame Bay Memorial Hospital, Twillingate, Newfoundland, for two years and also worked for a time in the house of the Medical Arts Hospital in New York City.

Dr. Charles E. Parsons is originally from Colorado Springs, Colorado. He is a graduate of Amherst College and the Johns Hopkins Medical School.

Immediately after graduation from college he went to Newfoundland and spent a year working with Dr. Wilfred T. Greenell, the Labrador medical missionary, acting as Dr. Greenell's private secretary for four months on the hospital ship Strathcona cruising among the Eskimo coast on the Labrador.

Dr. Parsons had charge of Dr. Greenell's Hospital at Battle Harbor, Labrador, for the summers of 1918 and 1919. He was an interne in medicine at the Johns Hopkins Hospital for the year 1919-1920; an interne in gynecology and obstetrics under the late Dr. John O. Peck at the Long Island College Hospital in Brooklyn from 1920-1921 and an interne and house surgeon at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York City under the late Dr. Charles Peck from 1921-1923. He spent several months of post graduate work in Vienna in 1921-22. In the summer of 1923 Dr. Parsons went to Twillingate, Newfoundland, where he founded the Notre Dame Bay Hospital, which was built as a war memorial. He was medical director and chief surgeon of this hospital from its opening in September, 1924, until his resignation in May, 1934.

He is a member of the Newfoundland Medical Association; the British Colonial Medical Association and a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

without serious. To do so, however, would require a deeper understanding of their causes than the public yet has.

While striving to do away with war, what a chance to present to eliminate all need of industrial strife, too, perhaps by a national court of arbitration, elected by popular vote but non-partisan, whose mandates would be enforceable. At any rate, let us not submit to industrial wars merely because they have been the custom at such periods in the past.

CANADA'S NPMA

Whether it is flattery, imitation or mere accidental similarity, Canada has just adopted a measure resembling certain features of the NPMA and AAA measures in force in the United States. The Dominion Parliament put it through by a vote of 55 to 63. It is the Natural Products Marketing Act, which would be called NPMA on this side of the border.

The Canadian measure contains some central features more drastic than anything undertaken here to date. It was not adopted without intense feeling and strenuous opposition. But it was adopted.

Americans have always been considerably impressed by British success with "muddling through" methods, which seemed to leave much to Providence. But British muddling in recent years has involved quite a bit of economic planning and government control, and now Canada goes in for stiff regulation where it considers it needed.

That Body of Yours

BY
 James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

HARDENING OF ARTERIES

You have always believed that hardening of the arteries or blood-vessels was the natural result of old age; that as we grow older the arteries grow harder as their elastic tissue was gradually replaced by hard lime like tissue.

Thus the expression, "You are as old as your arteries," has generally been accepted as true.

You can readily see that the blood will have difficulty reaching parts of the body because the vessels will not open up as well with less elastic tissue in them to let the blood pass to these parts.

Yet research physiologists—those who study the workings of the body in health, and research pathologists—those who study the body when it is in ill health or diseased—tell us that it is a mistaken idea that hardening of the arteries is the result of advancing years.

If hardening of the arteries was due just to "growing old," then the arteries of all individuals at a certain age would be about the same, whereas some of middle age have harder arteries than many of old age.

In fact arteries with a great degree of hardening have been found in individuals in their early thirties.
 Even in the same family a member aged 60 has been found to have arteries with less hardening than another member aged 40.

If hardening of the arteries is not due to old or advancing age what really is the cause?

Dr. Oscar Klotz, professor of pathology and bacteriology at the University of Toronto says, "A great deal of work has been done in trying to determine what factors enter into the development of hardening of arteries, or arteriosclerosis as it is usually called. It is known that infections do bring it on and also intoxications or poisonings of various kinds." Dr. Klotz is not referring to intoxication from liquor but absorption of toxic or poisonous substances manufactured in the body as a result of ill health or perhaps carelessness in living habits.

Just as there are funds now with which to fight cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, pernicious anaemia and other formerly incurable ailments, Dr. Klotz believes there should be a fund raised to investigate the cause or causes of hardening of the arteries.

And when we see men and women dying at middle age—right at their best—and remember that worry, anxiety, mental overwork, can cause
 these "intoxications" by upsetting the system, one of the first steps in preventing hardening of the arteries would be the acquiring of mental peace or calmness of spirit.

MURDER AT MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

It was not so easy to say just who those men were, was Harper's dry comment.

"Don't let go any more, Harper,"
 he said quickly. "If you take that line, you'll find us all in your net, accusing and accused. No doubt you've heard that Dufresne and I were rivals once and not very friendly ones, either. You could make some interesting deductions from that."

Harper was somewhat surprised by this invitation. He eyed the pianist sharply as he crossed the floor. "Have a cigarette?" The detective declined the offer, while Croymden turned back to the piano.
 His fingers moving softly over the keys. "There are some passages in this I need to brush up," he explained. "Recognize it? Chopin.
 Polonaise in B Flat Minor."

The detective sat down in the chair by the piano bench. Croymden's whole manner was feverish and excited and though his fingers continued through rippling passages his mental abstraction showed that he was casting about for an opening for whatever he had on his mind.

Then, preceded by a nervous exhalation of cigarette smoke, he struck out boldly. "Harper, can't you call off the dogs? Must this thing go on, boring deeper and deeper into the private life of this house? You can't ease the dead by an autopsy on the living."

"A detective on a murder case has no friends, Mr. Croymden. We cannot call this case closed until we have found the killer who is hiding among you."

The fingers slipped into a jangling discord and stopped. The pianist turned to face the detective. "I think you exaggerate when you call it a 'case,'" he challenged. "I really don't see it, Harper. You've built up a scarecrow of shreds and patches. When you tear it apart you won't find your murderer, but you will expose all the poor bare bones of our family skeleton to the public gaze. The public is always roaring for that sort of stuff, but I felt that you were above that kind of show, Harper."

He drew a long breath. "Don't think I'm talking wildly, or trying to hide some deep, dark secret. Dig below the surface anywhere in so-called Society and you'll find deceit, treachery, dissimulation. And,
 God knows, if you're going to take those things for clues to motive, you'll finish by putting all of us in the dock. Does this make sense to you or do you think I'm being merely rhetorical?"

Through a haze of smoke the detective looked straight into the glittering, excited eyes. There was no mistaking the genuine fervor of that plea. "I think I understand, Mr. Croymden," Harper responded gravely. "Yesterday, perhaps I should not have, but today a great many things have become clear to me."

CROYDEN turned again to the keyboard, softly fingering the treble keys with muted sound. "Are you a married man, Harper?" he asked, suddenly, without turning his head.

"No."
 "Then take my advice—and think well first!—he counselled. "It can do things to you, bring about conditions that no lover can survive. One's birthright of spirit can be sold out for a compromise," he added darkly.
 "Today, we seem to cling only to the Thirteenth Commandment—
 'thou shalt not be found out.' Many things can be borne in silence, indignities to the spirit as well as acts of the flesh, so long as these are kept discreetly hidden from our neighbors' eyes. But flaunt them across the horizon and then comes the end.
 That is why I ask you to take no further steps in that direction."

He stopped to snub out the cigarette end. "I suppose you've heard about Mr. Dufresne and Joyce Robert, to give the lady her more familiar name? And, possibly other details of the sort?"

Harper shrugged. "Servants will talk, tabloids thrive on scandal," he remarked, "and there's precious little escapes them. As I understand it, there have been dissensions and suspicions on both sides of the fence."

N-E-W-S
BEHIND THE N-E-W-S

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1934, by Paul Mallon)

Washington, June 14.—There was more fancy footwork backstage of the Housing bill than on any other legislation this session.
 Not even the Stock Market bill stirred up so much phlegm.

Mr. Steagall is supposed to be the Democratic chairman of the House Banking Committee. There is no question about his being chairman, but there is some argument about his being Democratic, as far as this administration is concerned.

This leader of financial legislation in the House earned his Stoenwall title the same way Jackson did.
 While all the rest have been fleeing before the advance of the administration, Mr. Steagall has stood there like a stone wall, impenetrable.

At least that is what he did for some weeks after President Roosevelt sent the Housing bill to Congress. The White House prodders got busy on the inside and prodded
 Mr. Steagall into promising to report the bill.

At the appointed time, Mr. Steagall did. But, lo and behold, the bill
 Mr. Steagall reported happened to be an entirely different bill.

Charges
 Mr. Roosevelt's prodders were so angry that one of them (an official in Frank Walker's division) called newsmen of Washington into a press conference.

This official spoke very disparag-ingly of Mr. Steagall's committee.
 He charged that it has sold out to the building and loan associations, that it had betrayed the administration, etc., etc., etc.

Some one present suggested that such remarks were very libelous, unless proved, and would cause an uproar. The official thereupon wisely decided to make his remarks "off the record," meaning confidential.

That kept them from getting into the newspapers, but they reached the ears of the Banking Committee members and the Building and Loan League. As a result, everyone lost his temper, that is everyone except Mr. Steagall. He still was giving a good imitation of a stone wall.

Doubts
 The votes taken in Mr. Steagall's committee were not made public. If they had been, they would have proved Mr. Steagall's rigidity.

In every vote taken, Mr. Steagall believed it or not—stood by the White House. He voted against changes which would give a half billion dollars in loans to Building and Loan Associations. He voted for the administration bill. Only two or three members of his committee did likewise.

Mr. Roosevelt's prodders know that, but they refuse to give Mr.
 Steagall full credit. They noted that his pals on the committee were all on the other side, particularly his bosom companion and alter ego, Mr.
 Goldsborough, a Democrat from Maryland.

Also they complain that Mr. Steagall has never before been overthrown by his committee, at least never by such an overwhelming margin as 15 to 3 and 15 to 4, which were the anti-administration margins on the committee roll call.

Furthermore, no ill feeling seems to exist between Mr. Steagall and his own committee members, who went against him and the administration.

Prodders
 The spook of the thing is that the administration had to exert extreme inside pressure to get its bill out of the discards. It is supposed to have everything fixed now so that it will get exactly what it wants.

Finally, after both Senate and House have passed the bill, and it goes into the hands of a conference committee.
 Mr. Steagall's friends are very proud of him. They say the administration is displeased only because he has the courage of his convictions, which have not happened to coincide with Mr. Roosevelt's conviction on inflation and guaranteeing bank deposits. They excuse his faithfulness to the administration on the housing bill on the ground that he was not interested in the subject much, one way or another. Also, they expect him to get some patronage.

To them, Mr. Steagall is just a big misunderstood man who does not care as long as he can continue to have his way generally on the subjects in which he is interested.

At any rate, all will concede that his untamable activities have made him the most colorful figure in a drab house.

Notes
 The charge that the Building and Loan League wrote the substitute housing bill, reported to the House, has been forcefully denied. No one will deny that the substitute was thoroughly acceptable to them, while the administration bill would ruin the profitable second mortgage business.

When the new Republican national chairman, Henry P. Fletcher, had his pictures taken, he posed beneath a photograph of ex-President Hoover, which was plainly visible in the pictures. Clarence Darrow was not fooled on publicity for his second report. He did not personally let it out prematurely, but a friend did. The friend is not connected with the Darrow board and may not have received his copy from Darrow.

Mr. Roosevelt is relying heavily on the advice of Vice President Garner in working out the strategy for the closing of Congress. Garner is sharp on such

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

By The Associated Press
Scene in Detail.

Atlanta, Ga.—Thieves removed the cornerstones from the Church of God and stole its contents. Into the stone had been converted the entire monetary offering of the first Sunday services in the church and many gifts of jewelry.

Refraind Bank.

Storv Lookout, Ont.—Pete Faberick and Steve Ilchuk, found injured and cased near the tracks of the Canadian National Railways, were brought to a hospital.

A frightened deer had jumped over a speeding gasoline car and knocked the two men off the platform.

Quality of Fun

Philadelphia—The Gray Ladies, a Red Cross organization, have learned from Mayor J. Hampton Moore the difference between a ball and a dance.

A ball, explained the mayor, "is supposed to be higher grade, but a dance is more enjoyable."

He admitted he learned the definition from a sailor.

It's Different Now.

Chicago—A pair of robins here never heard of that one-time popular song, "Don't bite the hand that's feeding you."

They built a nest on the back porch of Policeman K. W. Lynch's home and ate from Mrs. Lynch's hand all the while the eggs were hatching.

The young birds hatched out the other day. Now the robins peck Mrs. Lynch severely every time she tries to go on the porch.

What To Do.

Chicago—United States Marshall H. C. W. Laubenthal, ordered to seize the farm and livestock of a farmer near Syracuse, said "We are ordered to seize the farm, but not the crops; the cows, but not the milk pails and cans; all the animals, but not the feed for them." The Marshall intimated he would appeal to Washington for help from his dilemma.

Who Gets The Ring?

St. Paul—Oscar Weishursky was wondering whether an engagement has a legal status, like divorces and marriages and all that.

He sued for return of his engagement ring from Miss Effie Zwirski. She contends he broke the engagement, and she is entitled to the ring.

Cotton in India

The growing of cotton in India dates further back than written history.

Lawyer-Public Group Met Last Monday

The special committee on the relation of the lawyer to the public of the Federal Bar Association met Monday at the office of the chairman of the committee, Bernard A. Grossman, 1 Wall street, in New York. The other committee members are Philip Kling, former collector of the Port of New York; Francis L. Wellman, eminent writer on legal subjects; Charles H. Hyde, former Comptroller of the city of New York; Ulysses S. Grant, former Assistant United States Attorney; Maurice Desches, and Robert Darr, counsel of the senate investigation committee on racketeering.

"The members of this committee recognize that the stability of courts and government depend upon the absolute confidence of the public in the integrity of the lawyers, and the impartiality of the administration of justice. This can only be secured and maintained when the conduct and motives of the members of the Bar are such as to merit the approval of all just men. The obligation of the lawyer is one of honesty and fairness. His record should be as clean at the end of 50 years as the day he assumed his professional life. There is nothing which requires an attorney to perpetrate an act of injustice for the benefit of a client. There is nothing which requires an attorney to do whatever may enable him to succeed in winning his client's cause. His great trust is to be performed within and not without the bounds of the law. He must obey his own conscience and not that of his client.

At the present time all applicants for admission to the Bar of this state are examined and tested by a Character Committee. The successful ones are admitted to practice. They start on the most difficult part of their career—There is a cut in every kind of a game and what he learns in the first years of his practice sets the course of his career. After he has been admitted a certain number of years he becomes eligible to practice in the United States District Court. He must however apply for admission on supporting affidavits, and the application is generally granted on the moving papers. In the Federal Courts his practice in chief will be with bankrupts and devote his skill to successful protection or on the contrary, he can become a vigorous and despotic voice of creditors. This Special Committee recommends that all applicants for admission to the Federal Courts be examined for a second time, that they be required to account for acts and actions during the first years of their practice in the state courts to a committee to be appointed for this purpose by the judges of the district courts and that this committee consider them anew and consider whether the applicant is fitted morally and temperamentally to enter upon the greater obligations and greater practice which the Federal courts afford. This committee should consider the attitude of the applicant towards litigation whether in the past he has upheld the honor and dignity of the profession and the administration of justice beyond mere form; whether he has wronged his clients; and whether he has dealt honestly and fairly with the litigants he opposed and with their counsel. Many other facts should enter into such an inquiry and it is the purpose of this Special Committee to detail same and present same to the consideration of the judges.

Talks to Parents

Spelling Sickness

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

One winter Jessie was subject to sudden attack of unaccountable illness.

The symptoms were vague—a kind of headache, a coated tongue, sometimes a degree of temperature, or even a suggestion of a snuffle. But generally within twenty-four hours the child had recovered completely.

The first time Mrs. Jones put her to bed and treated her for a cold; the second time she decided that the child had over-eaten, and the next few times laid the symptoms to nerve exhaustion from playing too hard.

Then she began to realize that these attacks always occurred on Mondays and Thursdays, which seemed too much of a coincidence to take place by chance. So she questioned Jessie, taking her into her confidence as she did so.

"There is something that takes place in school on Mondays and Thursdays which you don't like. The symptoms are quite real. But underneath the Jessie that we see and know is another, a hidden child. Until you face her and show her up to yourself you cannot cure your self."

The child thought before she replied, "I don't like spelling." It was like a charm, her frank acknowledgment of this fact, and the Monday and Thursday symptoms ceased from that day on.

Many children unconsciously upset their digestions with nervous worry about some subject of study or social duty which they dislike.

For some reason, to acknowledge the fact and face it—if they do so honestly and not because they are forced to in spite of their inclination and better judgment—relieves the strain and so removes the cause of the symptoms.

The Tomato

The tomato is either a fruit or a vegetable, says Father-Morgan. As there is no well-drawn distinction between a vegetable and a fruit. Vegetables are defined as being used mostly in a cooked state. It has been held by some courts that plant products eaten during the main part of the meal are vegetables while those used only for dessert are fruits, especially when eaten raw.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—The Morristown incident rather forcefully reminded democratic party officials on the federal payroll that President Roosevelt's campaign to divorce them from their jobs is still in high gear.

The resignation of the Michigan democratic national committeeman as collector of internal revenue at Detroit occurred under conditions somewhat different from those surrounding other resignations of party officials. Complaints had been made he had solicited political funds in Detroit. He still is national committeeman for Michigan.

It served, however, as another demonstration of the administration's determination to get these party officials out of public office.

It's been more than four months since the President made his statement of policy in regard to this situation. At intervals since, office holders and politico-lawyers have made their exits.

Those Who Left

ROBERT JACKSON, former secretary of the democratic national committee and national committeeman from New Hampshire, resigned the day the White House made known its attitude. Jed C.

Adams, member of the board of tax appeals, stepped out as national committeeman for Texas. Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, director of the mint, quit as national committeewoman for Wyoming.

The resignations from the national committee of Bruce Kremer of Missouri and Max Gardner of North Carolina had been announced earlier in the year. Arthur Mullen, committeeman for Nebraska, quit early in March. These three are practicing law in Washington.

Speculation now centers on whether the departure of others, either from their places on the national committee or their federal jobs, will follow soon.

Farley Stays

THE most outstanding among those lingering is "Big Jim" Farley, postmaster general and chairman of the national committee. He has said his exit is "up to the chief."

W. W. Howe, first assistant postmaster general, still is national committeeman for South Dakota. W. A. Julian is Ohio's committeeman and treasurer of the United States.

Two collectors of internal revenue—H. H. Perry of North Dakota and Joseph Wolfe of Minnesota—both retain their places on the national committee.

One committeewoman, Mrs. Jean S. Whittemore, is collector of internal revenue for Puerto Rico.

There's no use making the endless job of house-keeping any harder by putting up with old-fashioned equipment—particularly when it comes to hot water. You can have all the hot water you want, day and night, in season and out, always ready for a very few pennies per day.

No two families are alike in their use of hot water of course, but the figure shown at left is higher than it will actually be for most homes, particularly those located on our city gas mains.

Automatic water-heating, gas or electric, is now well within the reach of even modest incomes. We'll gladly check over your present water-heating arrangements and give you an accurate estimate of the total cost. You ought at least to know about it.

Millions Enjoy New York Parks

Ithaca, N. Y., June 15.—Sixty-five state parks, under the supervision of the New York state conservation department, dot the state from the Atlantic ocean to the top of Mt. Marcy, and then across to the shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, says Professor Ralph S. Hosmer of the forestry department at Cornell.

These parks, he notes, differ in size and importance, but the system as a whole serves all sections of the state from east to west and from north to south. On one side are the magnificent beaches of Long Island; on the other the world famous Niagara Falls reservation. Diagonally the parks extend from the Thousand Islands to the rugged Allegheny state park on the Pennsylvania line in western New York.

All the state parks are established for public enjoyment, and all are free except for minor charges for special services. Millions of visitors frequent the parks each year, but seldom is there any crowding except on some of the bathing beaches on a hot summer afternoon.

Local Administration
For administrative purposes, Professor Hosmer says, these parks are grouped into twelve regions. Eleven of the twelve regions are under the care of local commissions appointed by the governor. The commissions differ in size, from three to nine members, and consist of local people. The chairmen of these local commissions constitute, with the director of lands and forests, the director of the state museum, and the state historian, the state council of parks. The state council acts as a clearing house and budget-control agency for all the regional commissions.

Robert Moses, president of the Long Island state park commission, is chairman of the state council. Robert E. Treman, Ithaca, is vice chairman, and Henry F. Lutz, New York city, the executive officer.

The other region, listed as number six, embraces the forest preserve counties in which lie the Adirondack and Catskill parks. They are under the care and direction of the division of lands and forests of the conservation department. These two so-called parks also include much privately-owned land. Under the same control fall the Revolutionary battle fields, now also set aside as parks; the Lake George battle ground, Crown Point, and Saratoga, together with smaller areas that are important historically.

Professor Hosmer calls attention to the names of the twelve regions as indicating their locations: Niagara, Allegany, Genesee, Central New York, Finger Lakes, Forest Preserve, Taconic, Palisades, Westchester, Long Island, Erie, and Thousand Islands.

Visit one or many of the state parks this year, urges Professor Hosmer. All are easy to reach over main highways, and all have the necessary conveniences for those who wish to picnic.

"If you are already acquainted with some of the parks, explore others. Then you will come to look back on this year as the year when you really got to know in how truly beautiful a state your lines are cast."

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—A brave man is Rene Hubert, newly arrived from Paris to create costumes for Hollywood films.

M. Hubert concedes Hollywood the "loveliest women in the world." He gives the palm for grooming, however, to the English woman, who in that respect surpasses both her American and her continental sisters, he says.

Perhaps it's disloyal to say so, he admits, but all the same, and notwithstanding that he is himself French—

"I think the English have the advantage over us because they live in a kingdom, where the prestige of aristocracy counts for much. Night life in London at present is savor than in any other town in the world. Money is being spent freely on entertainment. Theaters and cinemas are playing to capacity. That means more and lovelier clothes for the women, new hair styles, new cosmetics, new chic to be created."

Look Out, Men!

M. Hubert does not see any excuse for the failure of American men to "dress for evening more frequently. Why insult a lovely woman or expecting her to look like a hen when you're too lazy to change your suit? Is it too hot for dinner jacket or tails? Then there's the mess jacket and soft silk shirt, approved in the tropics."

More directly, the newly arrived designer, to reign as style monarch on the Fox lot henceforth, says: "I believe that the Englishman's time-honored custom of dressing for the evening meal, regardless whether or not he is going on to the theater or dance, has done a great deal to keep up the dress standard of women, even during times of depression."

Which throws it up to Hollywood's men to mind their P's and Q's.

Fishing For Royalty

Periodically, one of the movie studios looks longingly at royalty and thinks how nice it would be, what splendid exploitation, if only it had a king or a queen on its star list. Now comes a fortunate admission from Mae West's plan that some sort of vague and secret "negotiations" are being conducted to entice the former king of Spain into one of Mae's forthcoming pictures.

Not long ago it was Queen Marie of Rumania who was getting picture offers.

Before that, it was the late Czar Nicholas of Russia. It was Lewis Seisach, potent film mogul of his day, who cabled Nicholas as soon as he heard that the czar was "out of a job." Seisach got publicity, but no reply from the czar.

Stonehenge

Stonehenge is a megalithic structure on Salisbury plain, Wiltshire, England. It consisted originally of two concentric circles surrounding two enclosures of horseshoe shape, within which are five trilithons. Some of the stones have fallen, and some have been carried away, but the greater part remain. Its purpose is unknown, but in view of its orientation some investigators regard it as a temple of the sun, and carry back the date of its origin to the Seventeenth century B. C. There is strong evidence that it originated in the late Neolithic or early Bronze age.

Ornamental Apples Beautify Gardens

Geneva, June 14.—Ornamental apples and crabapples are suggested as promising types of plants that may be expected to prove hardy under severe winter conditions and might serve as replacements for shrubs and ornamentals that were killed or greatly weakened by the severity of the past winter. Many of the species and varieties of apples and crabapples are coming into favor for decorative purposes, and Prof. G. H. Van Eschelt, botanist at the State Experiment Station here, has prepared a brief circular on their culture and on the varieties now obtainable from American nurseries. A copy of the circular may be obtained upon request to the station.

For more than forty years the Experiment Station has been studying varieties of apples and of the allies of the common apple, and in the course of this work much has been learned about the ornamental types. Seventy forms are described in the circular, with groupings based on special characteristics, such as weeping forms, varieties with attractive fruit, sorts with striking fall foliage, and the like. Also the numerous types are listed according to time of blooming.

Brief directions on methods of propagating ornamental apples and crabapples include propagation by seeds, by budding, and by grafting.

Information is also provided on pruning, culture, diseases and insect pests, and other details. One or more forms are available for use for each purpose that almost any other tree or shrub may fill in the landscape design, says Prof. Van Eschelt. Charm of bloom is probably the chief appeal of the group, although in certain types the attractive yellow to bright red fruits are equally pleasing.

In turning the corner, let's turn it to the wall.

Try HORTON'S MELOROL! the first NEW KIND of ice cream in ages!

ICE CREAM has been a delicious treat for generations—but not in years has any ice cream been so gloriously good as the new Horton's MelOrOl.

It's a new kind of ice cream. Yes, it's made a new way... by a new method that adds immeasurably to its smoothness and creaminess... that makes it almost too delicious to be real...

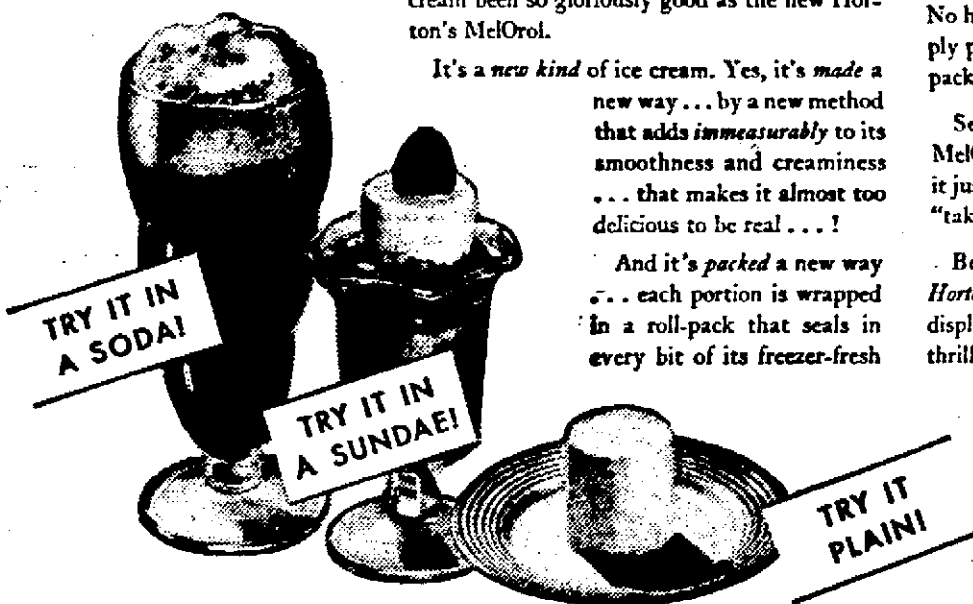

And it's packed a new way... each portion is wrapped in a roll-pack that seals in every bit of its freezer-fresh goodness... keeps it smooth and creamy.

Horton's MelOrOl is served a new way, too! No hands touch it. No dipper is used. You simply pull the handy tabs on each side of the roll-pack... the MelOrOl slips right out.

See how much more delicious Horton's MelOrOl makes a soda... a sundae... or try it just plain. Or even better—get it in the handy "take home" package for a family treat.

Be sure you get the real thing. Ask for Horton's MelOrOl—at any soda fountain that displays the Horton sign. Taste it—and get a thrill!

You have a meaning all your own;
I see it in your wee small light
To keep yourself aloof,—alone.
I used to wonder what you were;
I searched as blindly as a mole;
But now your fragrance, sweet as

Time is Eastern Daylight.
New York, June 15.—Whenever Congress decides to call it a day for this session, the closing ceremonies will have microphones present.
This was assured with simultaneous announcement from NBC and CBS that permission had been granted to carry the activities to the country. Part of the last business of the house is a "community sing" by the representatives, included in which is to be the song, "The Congress of the U. S. A.," written by Rep. William I. ### Churches Loyal Support Blind Sale

All of the churches of all denominations in Kingston are giving their loyal support to the Sale for the Blind, which is being held at 204 Wall street. In connection with the sale the committees and public generally are much interested in the many improvements in conditions which in the past two years have entered into the lives of the blind. Much interest is taken by the public in the use of German Shepard Dogs as guides for the blind. These dogs are trained as the "seeing eye" at Morristown, N. J., and safely take their blind masters through dense traffic amidst strange surroundings. One of these dogs has recently been assigned to a sightless man at Albany, who takes him a long distance daily, back and forth to work.

The ladies are also interested in saving sight, and are sending a Kingston blind boy to Albany for very expert examination and treatment with the hope improved vision will result.

All of these activities in the work for the blind go hand in hand with training and employment of the sightless after every effort has been exhausted to save or improve defective vision.

All are cordially invited to call at the bazaar of articles made by the blind, which is being held on Wall street, and see for themselves the wonderful workmanship which can be produced under expert supervision.

On Tuesday, June 19, the sale will be in charge of the following committees:

10 a. m.-1 p. m. Holy Cross Episcopal—Mrs. Frederick Hibbard, chairman; Mrs. George Burgevin, Mrs. Fred Diehl, Mrs. E. Kuehn, Mrs. Rufus Whitney, Mrs. William Brindley, Mrs. Minnie Irwin, Mrs. Karl Hesse, Mrs. Bennett, Miss Jessie Tappan, Mrs. Fred Koch, Mrs. Jane Feltman, Mrs. Charles Barber, Mrs. George Sharkey, Mrs. William McBride, Miss Anna Van Beuren, Mrs. Peter Eldemann.

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

Sand-Witches With Tasty Dressing

Copyright, 1934, by Fairchild

Left—A waffle cloth fashions this youthful looking pajama with suspenders bodice. Novelty colored belts and buttons trim it.
 Right—Shorts for the beach are also made of the waffle cloth with separate sweater blouse of a plain cotton medium trimmed with colored stripes, which also belt the shorts.
 Lower left—Extreme brief of mercerized ribbed cotton for wear under beach pajamas and shorts.
 Lower right—Slacks of a wide ribbed cotton.

Skirts Make a Sensational Reappearance on the Beach

New York—It becomes increasingly difficult to paint a faithful picture of the representative American beach scene. Every little beach seems to have its own ideas to contribute. The swim suit is all one scene, at some beaches, while at others the women have the gale effect of a musical comedy chorus.

Reporters have been writing their heads off about the so-called dress-maker suit, a thing of ruffles and all manner of parlor tricks—ball gowns in a sort of abridged edition. Whether they are worn in your particular locale they do not represent the big news of the year. One also feels like writing of the beach dress in italics, for it is the beach pajama's most formidable rival. Shorts, of course, are a rival, but then shorts and the beach dress are as one. Whenever you see a beach dress you may feel pretty sure that under it lurks some snappy shorts ready to come out in the open at the drop of the skirt. That it is far simpler, not to say more graceful, to pry oneself loose from a beach dress than from slacks is something that every woman knows, even though those who love their slacks may not admit it.

The model sketched gives one an excellent idea of the very practical scheme by which one is fit to be seen going to and from the beach and fit as a fiddle after one gets there. Mid-Victorian though it may sound, there are again women who wear skirts in the water. The tunic suit, but more especially the suit with a separate skirt, is back in fashion. There are also apron and even polonaise suits with very tricky trimmings many of which are shells, rope, star fish, motifs, cork and other sea worthy objects.

The Parisienne Looks at Shorts

Paris—For beach and resorts, the shorts theme which commenced strictly for beach wear, has been extended to tennis dresses with divided skirts which just cover the knee; and many dressmakers are showing separate skirts to go over shorts or

When the sun shines—won't you be happy to slip into this luring dress? It's the type all the fashionables are wearing to acquire that lovely beige suntan.

It's distinctive and feminine with its deep square cut neck and bow tied shoulders.

Shirting cottons, peasant weave cottons, seersucker, pique, linen, tub silks, etc., are surprisingly inexpensive and smart suggestions for your selection.

Style No. 2885 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 20, 22 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 39-inch material.

Send TEN CENTS (10c) in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Write plainly NAME, ADDRESS and STYLE number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE YOU WISH.

THE NEW SUMMER EDITION of our PATTERN BOOK features FASHION, BEAUTY and HEALTH.

PRICE OF BOOK TEN CENTS.

Quakers One-Bite Food
 Quakers are different from most other male birds. If they choose a mate they will likely consort with that one alone for the rest of their lives. If the favorite goes should die or be killed or removed the quaker might then choose another mate.

The Chinaman's Quone
 The quone (qu-qu) together with the shaving of a part of the head was forced on the male Chinese throughout the Manchu dynasty (1644-1911) as a badge of servitude and submission to the Manchus. Since 1912 the quone has been gradually disappearing.

 cocoa tartar
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat whites until stiff but not dry, slowly add sugar and beat until creamy. Fold in remaining ingredients, mixing lightly. Pour into ungreased loaf or round pan and bake 50 minutes in slow oven. Invert pan until cake has cooled.

Sugar and flour should be sifted separately four times before measuring.

First Prize Ring Rule

The first prize ring rule was drafted by John Broughton of England about 1762 and improved upon by the Earl of Queensberry, but the real drafter of later ones was a man by the name of Chambers. The original dimension of the ring was 24 feet square, although there were times when the champions demanded that they be larger. The State Commissions of America put a limit of from 21 to 22 feet inside the ropes in late years. Some rings are even smaller, but permitted by the commissions.

'Keep Your Shirt On' Mandate At Most Beaches Once More

In the good old summertime it's a good idea to bring along a basket of clothes as well as snacks. The bathing suit on the left passes muster at Miami, but would bring a gasp and a cop at Chicago, New York and other points. The young woman to the right is wearing an all-white suit, which is taboo at Ocean Grove, N. J., and Chicago, too. The backless bathing suit "goes" at some beaches, but is frowned on at others. "Halter neck" suits—like the one worn by the young woman on the extreme right—are popular at Galveston, Tex.

Perennial Battle Of Togs Starts 1934 Swim Season

By The Associated Press

The battle of the bathing suits is on again. That's another way of announcing summer is here.

If you're wise, you'll consult beach regulations in your community. Otherwise you may get in deep—but not in water.

One place shrugs its shoulders at topless bathing suits for men. At another, trunk bathers are clapped into jail. New York city, for example, is that way about half-naked matadors at municipal beaches. It arrests them on sight. Fines of $1 are the penalty. The city fathers insist on complete bathing suits—tops and trunks, or one-piece suits combining both.

In New Jersey, too, the rules are unfriendly to the trunks-only adherents. Asbury Park decrees one-piece suits. Shoulder straps must be kept up at all times. Suits must cover all of body from shoulders to point below hips. No brassiere effects allowed. Ocean Grove bans white suits. Atlantic City bans the trunk trapezoid. Long Branch ditto.

In St. Louis there is more latitude, each pool making its own regulations, with "morals" being supervised by the captain of life guards. Only two persons weekly, it is estimated, are ejected from the city's largest pool, which has an average daily patronage of 6,000.

At Galveston, Tex., there is no police interference except to keep persons from going in the nude during the daytime. Most of the men this summer are wearing trunks only, while "halter neck" suits are popular for women.

Not "Shellbacks" in Boston

"We aren't shellbacks," said William E. Whitaker, secretary to the Boston metropolitan district commission. The commission makes the rules for beaches up and down metropolitan Boston's north and south shores. "All we demand is decency," he added. "But we won't allow slipping straps."

"Common sense" governs enforcement at Miami Beach, Fla., Chief of Police Robert Teaney says he has found some persons appear indecent in apparel that is becoming to others.

Men can get by with trunks alone, but women must wear some sort of top piece, even if it is only a narrow strip of cloth.

Virginia Beach, Va., is another place where trunks for men go, but bathrobes, sweaters or other covering must be worn in the streets. Women bathers must wear some kind of brassiere.

Pools at the nation's capital insist, as a rule, on one-piece suits furnished by the hotel, but one or two permit men to don trunks only if they wish.

All-White Suits Taboo

Brassiere suits are "out" at Chicago beaches, and all-white suits are taboo. Men bathers must wear shirts and trunks; women may wear one-piece suits. The backless bathing suit is okay "if not too backless," said Harry O'Hare, superintendent of recreation.

The Twin Cities are at odds. The Minneapolis park board has decreed that women's suits must have skirts and that men and boys must wear tops to their trunks.

Across the river, Fred uax, St. Paul park commissioner, has announced that "abbreviated swimming suits and shorts in cycling and tennis will be permitted in St. Paul parks this year. Last year," he says, "I was opposed to wearing of trunks only on beaches. But styles change. The majority sentiment seems to favor them and I have decided to permit men to wear them."

Clothing "sufficient to conform to common standards" is the only rule in effect on beaches in the Los Angeles district. Trunks for men are sanctioned, and women may wear separate brassieres.

Kish Pleads Guilty to Manslaughter Charge

slaughter that the maximum term be imposed.

Judge Traver then said that he would take into consideration what had been said and imposed the 10 to 20 year term.

Kish is accused of murdering George Markis at 33 Hasbrouck avenue on February 23 last. "As the police pieced together the story, Mrs. Kish was living there in the same house with Markis but in another apartment. Kish came looking for his wife and entered the house only to find she was not in her apartment. He went to the Markis apartment and there was met by Markis. A hatchet was found when the police arrived and Markis had been struck with it in addition to being shot. Kish claimed he had been attacked when he went to Markis in search of information about Mrs. Kish.

The body was discovered when Mrs. Kish returned home and went to the Markis apartment to take in some clothing which she had removed from the line. She stumbled over the body and the police were called in. While investigating the crime gas was detected and Kish was found in Mrs. Kish's apartment in the basement with a gas cock turned on. He was stretched on the bed unconscious. The police removed him to a hospital and he was revived and charged with the killing.

No Arrests During Night

Thursday night passed quietly in police circles and the police did not find it necessary to make a single arrest.

Trial of Mary Dugan Sets High Standard

New Group in New Theatre Present Finished Performance At Opening Night of Summer Theatre Season.

Indications that this vicinity is in for an era of better produced and acted plays in at least one of the summer theatres is evidenced by the finished performance at the Matoaka Manor Theatre on the Saugerties road, where the "Trial of Mary Dugan" opened last night, the parts being taken by members of the Drama Repertoire Players, who are making their first appearance in this locality, and who will be welcomed by Ulster county folk if the same high standard is maintained.

This play which has been acted for the past several years has to do with the trial of a woman, mistress of a man who has been slain, and for which crime she has been blamed. The novel idea of having the audience act as the jury in the case establishes a closer contact than is usual in plays of this type. Developments in the case as it progresses proves extremely interesting and the action maintains a high pitch until the final decision is put to the audience. It is pretty well established who the murderer is, but to tell would take away the enjoyment of those who will attend and do not know the conclusion.

Hal Clarendon as District Attorney Galvey presented the finest performance of the evening as the relentless but often humorous guardian of people's rights, who dragged Mary Dugan's name and character as deeply in the mire as possible. Jerome Sylvan as Jimmy Dugan, brother of Mary, who defends his sister's life in his first court case, carried off second honors with the sheer sincerity of his acting.

Dorothy Deer-Horn as Mary Dugan showed to greatest advantage when being subjected by her brother to the examination of her life history, her loves and why she lived the way she did.

Others in the cast, which was a large one, were adequate and furnished just the proper background to make the situations seem real and life-like.

All in all the play was a well directed and well presented performance and it continued efforts of this group produce equally fine results their stay at Matoaka Manor Theatre is sure to be satisfying and profitable to audience and actors alike.

Jail Populations Reported Declining

Due to More Liberal Alimony Laws and Officials Expect Discontinuation of the Alimony Clubs of Recent Years.

Albany, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Jail populations, especially in New York city, already are declining as a result of the more liberal alimony laws and State Department of Correction officials expect discontinuation of the "alimony clubs" of recent years.

Judges no longer are sending delinquent estranged husbands to jail for arrears in their marital bills. Instead, in divorcing cases, the husbands are allowed freedom in an effort to obtain the money to satisfy alimony claims.

Alimony clubs grew and flourished in many jails of New York state until the legislature took a hand in the situation in 1927, passing laws allowing judges to use discretion in sending men to jail for failure to keep abreast of their divorced or separated wives' claims.

Correction officials have labeled alimony in many cases a "racket," declaring a man without a job "racketeering" and one to "get the means to pay when he is tossed in to jail by an unrepentant wife."

A 75 per cent decrease in alimony cases at the Queens county jail was revealed in the most recent report of Department of Correction investigators. This, they stated, was a result "due in large part to the laws regarding alimony payments which were enacted in 1933."

Officials, however, admit some confinements in jail are legitimate for past due alimony. Their example is a wealthy husband who goes to jail rather than pay, languishing there with fellow "club" members as long as he refuses to pay.

STUMBLED INTO OPEN CELLARWAY

A woman wearing glasses and apparently somewhat nearsighted stumbled over the iron doors of an open cellarway in front of a Wall street store Thursday afternoon and fell down the stone steps. She was assisted out by a couple of men who were standing nearby and went on her way, displaying no sign of having suffered any serious injury, even her glasses being unbroken. Those who witnessed the accident were amazed that the woman, who did not give her name, could have experienced such a fall without being killed or at least very severely injured.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 15 (AP)—The stock market apparently saw a few rays of light in the murky trading skies today and prices generally pushed slowly forward.

The proposal of President George of the A. F. L., presented to the steel workers' convention at Pittsburgh, that a mediation board be appointed by the president to settle all disputes and that the threatened strike be called off, gave speculative sentiment a much needed lift. Trade and industrial news was interpreted as rather constructive. Berlin's debt suspension order was a disputed factor.

Despite the dullness of the session, shares of National Lead, People's Gas, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Columbia Carbon and Union Carbide recorded gains of 2 to 3 points. Others, up major fractions to a point or more, included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Republic and Bethlehem Steels, American Can, Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Standard Oil of California and New Jersey, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, N. ## Society Notes

To Be Married Sunday.

New Paltz, June 15.—Florid Mackay, who is connected with the New Paltz and Highland-Poughkeepsie bus lines, and Miss Daisy Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brynne Bennett, of Highland, will be married Sunday afternoon, June 17.

Bryans-Briggs.

Ellenville, June 15.—Mrs. Nellie Briggs of Grahamsville and Harold Briggs of New York city were united in marriage at the home of Mrs. Emma Hoar at noon on Sunday, June 16. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank Hastings. A buffet luncheon was served to the guests after the ceremony, following which the couple left for New York city where they will make their home. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Briggs.

Cooming Wedding.

Highland, June 15.—The marriage of Miss Carol Phillips to Edward Smith, Jr., takes place Sunday at Pleasant Valley. Miss Phillips is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Phillips. Mr. Phillips conducted the ceremony in Highland for several years and sold the business to the present owner, Mrs. Pauline Gerkin. At that time Miss Phillips was active in the Presbyterian Sunday school and Christian Endeavor. Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Busch of Wilcox avenue are relatives.

Bojak-Kearney

At St. Mary's Church on June 10 a very pretty wedding took place when Margaret E. Kearney, daughter of Mrs. D. Kearney, became the bride of Sylvester W. Bojak, son of Mr. Catherine Bojak. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James P. Moore. The bride was lovely in her gown of white satin. Her veil of lace and tulle was worn over a white satin train which hung from the shoulders. Her arm bouquet was of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Raymond Schuler. Her gown was of blue satin with pink hat and slippers and she carried pink roses. The groom was attended by Frank Madajski. The bride and groom are popular young folk and have the well wishes from a host of friends. After a short trip to Albany they will be at home to their many friends at 92 Third avenue.

Givens-Goldsmith

Ellenville, June 15.—Miss Edna D. Goldsmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Goldsmith, and Albert J. Givens of Kerhonkson were married at the home of the bride, "Woodcrest," on the mountain road. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Perry Van Dyke, pastor of the Ellenville Dutch Reformed Church. Miss Marion Humiston, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Frederick B. Tator of Rhinecliff acted as best man. Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Miss Ruth Goldsmith, sister of the bride. The bride was attired in a white afternoon gown and carried a bouquet of white roses. A wedding supper was served immediately after the ceremony and the couple left shortly afterward for their honeymoon. Upon their return they will reside at the home of the bride's parents for the present.

Helms-Stauble

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized at St. Wendelin's Church, Ruby, Sunday afternoon, June 10, at 2 o'clock, when Miss Elise Stauble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stauble, became the bride of Alton Helms of Glasco. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Andrew Dooly. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked beautiful in a gown of white satin trimmed with pearls, and a veil caught back with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Veronica Stauble, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, looked charming in pink organdie, with hat and slippers of blue. She carried pink roses and blue delphinium. Little Joan Stauble, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore blue organdie and carried a basket of pink roses. The best man was Edward Briody of Glasco. The bride party entered the church to the strains of "Loving and True" and the wedding march played by Mrs. Hazel Tenet of Mt. Marion. Before and during the ceremony "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me" were beautifully rendered by Anthony Benoit, a friend of the groom. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at which about 75 relatives and friends were present. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal couple left on a honeymoon to Canada and on their return will reside in a newly furnished home in Ruby.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, June 15.—Donald Terpening is confined to his home in Sloughsburg on account of an injured foot.

NEW SPRING HATS SHOULD BE SHINY

Fashion Loans to Glittering Millinery.

The new spring hats given like the broad new leaders of 1934 emphasize what with the epidemic of long-haired straw, patent leather, cloche and attached tulle.

Patent leather, which moved up from shoes to handbags, now has graduated into millinery, and the important new hats and gobs hats of shiny patent kid inject a new verve into spring costumes.

Spring tailors in the all-important navy are topped by pascade salons and off-the-face Dutch bonnets in tulle and shiny straw, trimmed with bands, bows or plumes of patent leather.

A new affair of the dinner-plate silhouette has the underside of the brim faced in patent leather, with a band to match.

Another Breton sailor of navy tulle has plumes of black patent leather around its pert upturned brim.

Applied squares of patent leather decorate the brim of one of the new cartwheels of shiny straw.

And the current headliner in the smoother hat shops is a draped beret of navy patent pin-dotted in red or white.

PLAIDS GO FORMAL

By CHERRY NICHOLAS

Just to say that plaids are worn, there is nothing new and interesting about that but to consider plaids as playing a formal evening role, that is different. A very fascinating chapter in the season's record of stirring doings in fashionland, is the debut of gorgeous silk plaids and shimmering sheer plaids and metal patterned plaids on organdie backgrounds into the realm of fabrics for formal night-life gowns. The handsome plaid in the picture is in black and white. With it is worn a three-quarter black transparent velvet coat with bishop sleeves and a scarf collar. A large rhinestone pin is smart on the scarf and repeats the gleam of the bracelets.

New Low Necklines Give

Chance to Wear Jewelry

News from recent Paris openings show that necklines, in many cases, are lower, which means a revival of the necklace. Some are low or medium V necklines, some are square. Several houses showed gowns with the boat neckline which is also a good background for a necklace. Ardanne showed several evening gowns with beautiful real jewelry, especially a pendant in the form of a circle of diamonds, strung on a braid of seed pearls, hanging to the waist.

Maggi Rouf wore at her opening a gold high-necked evening dress with a throat with a pearl necklace pulled through and a huge pearl and diamond plaque suspended two inches above the waistline which was placed at normal.

Vera Boren used clips and buttons of real sea shells, a decorative and new idea. Lelong's mannequins wore rock crystal and turquoise jewelry, and at Lanvin's showing considerable gold jewelry of the slave type was seen. Schiaparelli also adapted the sea shell motif in clips of galena. Lyons showed another type of jewelry at her opening. Particularly noticeable were open slave bracelets made of polished exotic wood, or of colored galena.

STYLE NOTES

A "white summer" is in promise. Pin your Ascot tie with a huge brooch.

Street pastels is latest message for coats.

Softer collar is important styling detail.

Printed nets register for day and evening.

Velvet girdles enhance gayer evening print frocks.

Kitchen Conferences For County Women

Miss Ella Cushman, household management specialist from the State College of Home Economics, is scheduled in Ulster county for eight days the coming year. She will be available to anyone in the county wishing a kitchen conference, provided the homemaker wishing help with her kitchen will invite a group of eight or ten other homemakers to take advantage of the conference.

It takes time and thought, according to Miss Cushman, to make a kitchen convenient and attractive. Much can be done at little cost, as was demonstrated on the tour June 13 at the home of Mrs. Francis Lowe at Nanapanoch. But to accomplish the best results at little cost requires much time for planning. Miss Cushman will not be in the county for conferences before March or April next spring. All wanting to have help with their kitchens should get in their requests now. In the intervening time they can make a study of their kitchens, how waste motions are made, how many unnecessary steps are taken in doing kitchen work, what changes can be made to relieve the miles of walking and the irritating situations in kitchen work.

If a homemaker gets so tired, times that it is hard to be good natured perhaps it might be due to one of the things listed here: Being on ones feet too much, lifting loads that are too heavy, going up and down stairs, confusion, lack of cheerfulness in working surroundings, irritation at inefficient methods of work due to poor arrangement of cupboards and other working equipment, uneven floors, not enough rest periods during the day and other things that may seem like trifles. Time spent on a study of one's kitchen from now until March will help greatly in making the conference a success and in helping make the kitchen more efficient. Mrs. Lowe found that by making partitions in the drawer of her kitchen table, where there is a definite place for cutlery, etc., that she has saved ten minutes a day formerly used in hunting for the article needed. This is not only saving time but is relieving her of much irritation. This ten minutes a day is giving Mrs. Lowe 60 hours a year for rest, reading, working among her flowers or having a friendly chat with her neighbors, when many a valuable idea can be passed on.

At the kitchen conferences plans are made for making the kitchen of the homemaker visited more convenient and attractive—a working center where mileage will be reduced, waste motions eliminated and cheerful surroundings can be enjoyed. Any homemaker in the county wishing this service get in touch with the Ulster County Home Bureau, 280 Wall street.

Specialty Numbers In Revue Next Week

Besides the four big scenes in the revue which will be staged at the Broadway Theatre Wednesday, June 20, and Thursday, June 21, by the pupils of Miss Helen Cashin there will be several specialty numbers. Miss Margaret Maxim and Kay Callahan will act as mistresses of ceremonies and introduce each scene. They will also do a specialty "Cocktails for Two."

The Harmonians besides adding to the scenes with their singing have also arranged several new numbers. Ernest Luedtke will add to the classical numbers the touch of the violin. Miss Irene MacQuaid and Lillian Gessner do a skit "He's a Humdinger." Miss Gessner also does an eccentric tap.

Miss Kay Laubenberg will play for the entire show. The feature picture in connection with the revue will be "Katherine the Great" with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

PWA Reports It Employed 2 Million

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The public works administration, which announced that it put 2,000,000 men to work during its first year, will swing tomorrow into its second year with new plans.

More speed on the present program and the evolution of a permanent public works system were the highspots of Administrator Ickes' thoughts on PWA's anniversary eve.

"PWA employment has been increasing rapidly for several weeks and is now carrying a heavy load in the recovery program," he said. "It should reach its peak late in the summer—the best construction weeks."

"I think public works is going to be a permanent establishment of government, although not on the present scale."

"As I understand the President's plan of looking ahead, there will be a well considered, carefully worked out plan of public works."

SPENCER'S SCHOOL PUPILS ENJOYED OUTING THURSDAY

The pupils of Spencer's Business School enjoyed a very pleasant school outing at Tillson's Lake Thursday afternoon. The large, happy group of forty young people left at noon, chaperoned by Mrs. Elsie Myers Pultz and Miss Ruth DuBois of the faculty and Miss A. B. Collier who entered fully into the jolly spirit of the occasion. Plenty of delicious eats; plenty of wholesome fun and sports made this picnic ideal in every way. The cars furnished by the young men pupils were decorated with signs; the honking of horns and shouts of laughter made their passing noticeable. Miss Frances Pelham with her assistants were given much credit for the success of this social event which will long be remembered by those who participated.

JEWELS VALUED AT $87.175 STOLEN FROM MRS. ZUKOR

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—A clever band of international jewel thieves, believed to have gathered here to prey upon World's Fair visitors, stole jewels valued at $87.175 from Mrs. Adolph Zukor, wife of the movie magnate, police reported today.

Spurred by this and other similar robberies, picked detective squad was detailed to smash the ring.

This squad is familiar with the faces and characteristics of many notorious jewel thieves and its duties are to search for such faces in lobbies and at train and plane arrivals. A constant watch on Mrs. Edward B. McLean of Washington, who dazzled World's Fair crowds with the $300,000 hope diamond, has been ordered.

MONROE SCHLUMPS WIN THREE, TO OPPOSE FREEMAN MONDAY

Their third straight victory was scored by the Monroe Schlumps at the Fair Grounds Thursday night when they outpointed the Brownies 16-2. Joe Spitzer, pitching for the winners, would have had a shutout victory only for a hit scored in the fourth inning. This coupled with a walk and two errors, gave the Brownies their two runs. Joe Citron was injured about the face when a pitched ball struck him. His teammates wish him a speedy recovery.

Monday evening the Monroe Schlumps will play The Freeman at Block Park.

MEETING OF P. N. A. GROUPS SUNDAY AT WHITE EAGLE

Iowa Man Released, Abductor Captured

St. Joseph, Mo., June 15 (AP)—Held prisoners for nearly 16 hours by an escaped Texas convict, three Iowa men were released here early today and 15 minutes later the abductor was captured.

Release of the three men, Elmer Schuler, Davenport, Ia., policeman; Al Schultz, secretary-treasurer of the Davenport baseball club; and Dr. W. H. Fitch, Walcott, Ia., veterinarian, ended a night of anxiety for their safety and terminated a widespread search for them by federal agents and posse.

The abductor was identified by police as Joe Palmer, 32, who with four other men escaped from the Eastern, Tex., prison farm last February 16, after killing a guard.

Schulze said he believed Palmer's motive in kidnapping the men was to escape identification. He quoted the abductor as saying he wished to go to St. Joseph for he had "connections" there.

The kidnapping of Schultz and Schuler took place in front of the Western League baseball park at Davenport.

The patrolman approached Palmer to question him. But Palmer drew a pistol from his pocket and forced the officer to stop. When Schultz approached in his motor car, Palmer forced the policeman into it and ordered Schultz to drive.

Palmer complained about the condition of the machine and near Wall street stopped Dr. Fitch and commanded his coupe. He forced the officer into the rear compartment of the coupe and ordered Dr. Fitch and Schultz to take turns at driving.

"We zigzagged here and there," Schultz said. "We traveled all the time. We must have gone at least 700 miles."

When the kidnapers and his victims arrived here, Palmer said he would let the three men have the motor car if they would promise to go back to Davenport. When Palmer started off walking the men reported the kidnapping to police. About 15 minutes later the convict was taken prisoner.

Plaintiff Gets $216 In Negligence Case

Plaintiff was awarded $216 in the action brought by Kingston Transfer Co., Inc., against Minnie Sheppard and Preston Wilbur. It was a negligence action brought to recover for damages to a motor truck of plaintiff which was struck by a truck of defendant near Fishkill. N. Le Van Haver for plaintiff and A. J. Cook for defendants.

Judge Traver announced that next week if no criminal trials were ready on Monday he would take up further civil work as the jury would be in attendance. The clerk was instructed to notify counsel with cases on the day calendar to be present Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and in the event no criminal trials were had the civil matters would be continued during the week.

Criminal matters will be again brought to the attention of the court on Monday afternoon but no actual trials may be had. Already about a score of cases have been taken care of without a trial.

JURY SAYS NOT GUILTY IN ELLENVILLE MILK CASE

It took a jury less than 20 minutes to decide on a verdict of not guilty in the action brought against Harold Wagar, who was charged with selling raw milk in the village of Ellenville, where there is an ordinance providing for the sale of pasteurized milk in the village. The action was brought before Justice Melvin D. Schenck by Herman Cohen representing District Attorney Murray's office, as prosecutor and LeRoy Lounsbury defending Wagar.

Wagar claimed that he had a permit from Dr. George F. Harker, health officer of the town of Wawarsing, to sell unpasteurized milk in the town of Wawarsing; that he delivers raw milk within the village upon order only and that he does not solicit trade. He also alleged that he was a farmer, not a milk dealer and that he did not operate a regular milk route.

One of the witnesses called was Dr. Brew for several years with the State Department, now secretary of an organization interested in the distribution of raw milk.

SOUTH RONDOUT

The Ladies' Aid Society of the W. E. Church will serve a June 20. Following is the menu: Cold corned beef, creamed potatoes, green beans, lettuce and tomato salad, strawberry shortcake and whipped cream, tea and coffee. Supper will be served from 5:20 until all are served. The public is invited.

Baptisms on Sunday were Edward Frederick Mains, Clark Harvey Mains, Richard Garrit Mains and Bruce Elbert Wilson.

Time of M. E. Church Sunday school is changed to 10 a. m. instead of 9:45 a. m. starting Sunday, June 17.

Many folks from the village motored to New York city to see the U. S. Navy fleet. They report a wonderful sight.

Paul Beaver of Port Ewen is painting the house of Frederick Webster of Connelly Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wesley will entertain on the program of the St. John's Men's Club of Kingston Friday evening, June 22, with their "Jiggs and Maggie" sketch.

Number Of Cases Get Attention Of Court

John Plouffe Gentry to Petit Larceny—Broadhead Paroled, Whipple and Plough Jailed, House Must Pay.

William Jones, charged with grand larceny for the stealing of an automobile in Kingston this spring, was permitted to plead guilty to petit larceny as a second offender in county court Thursday afternoon and Judge Traver sentenced him to one year in the county jail. In imposing the jail sentence Judge Traver said he was taking into consideration the prior conviction for the same crime. The plea came after Assistant District Attorney Haver had moved the case for trial. George Rusk appeared and stated that Jones would plead guilty to petit larceny. That plea was accepted.

John Broadhead, 50 years old, of Lomontville also took a plea when his case was moved for trial. He pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and was given a six months jail sentence but that sentence was suspended during good behavior and he was paroled to report to the probation officer. District Attorney Murray stated that there had been trouble about Lomontville for some time and Broadhead was one of those who had been making the trouble. The State Troopers went to see him and during their visit found two alleged guns and Broadhead was arrested. Mr. Murray exhibited the guns in court. One he explained was a cap pistol such as he used when a boy but the other one was a revolver which at the present time was not in condition to be fired but with some repairs it could be made into a usable gun. Broadhead he said should be put under some restraint and shown that he must obey the law. Further he said that Broadhead must be impressed with the fact that he was not to molest or interfere with the people who had made the complaint against him. Judge Traver in sentencing Broadhead told him that he must make good while on parole or he would meet with serious consequences.

Newton Whipple, charged with possession of a concealed weapon entered a plea of guilty and the court imposed a $50 fine or 30 days in the county jail in addition a jail sentence of six months. However the six months jail sentence was suspended during good behavior and he was placed on parole.

Raymond Plough charged with an assault on one Cahill entered a plea of guilty to assault, third degree, and on recommendation of complainant a six months sentence was suspended and he was directed to report to the probation officer.

Joseph Bravo on a plea of guilty to carrying concealed weapons was fined $100. He paid $50 and was given until September 16 at 2 o'clock to pay the balance. In the event he does not he will serve 60 days in jail. He was paroled.

Juries were excused until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Washington, June 15 (AP)—Dr. Raymond G. Tuckwell, just confirmed as undersecretary of agriculture, leaves early next week on a trip to the heart of the farm lands.

"NOT CONSTIPATED FOR SEVEN WEEKS"

Writes Mrs. Johnson After Using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Sufferers from constipation will be interested in this unsolicited letter:

"Your ALL-BRAN surely relieved constipation. I am so glad over the good it has done me that I feel I must write and tell you of it."

"For lunch I take a banana, a large one. Six tablespoons of ALL-BRAN in a sauce dish, and dip banana at each bite until all is consumed. I haven't been constipated now for seven weeks."—Mrs. Louise Johnson, 1433 Forest Street, Denver, Colorado.

Constipation often causes headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness. This condition is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further promote regular habits. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the wastes.

Try ALL-BRAN in place of patent medicines—often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

MISTER- is this your idea of a VACATION?

it isn't HERS!

HOME may be heaven to you after a day at the office but it's just another name for workshop to your wife.

Poking around the garden and the neighborhood golf course may be your idea of a perfectly swell way to spend two weeks this summer but then you won't have to answer the doorbell, shoo away peddlers, cook the dinners, wash the dishes, bathe the children and make the beds—or wear the same house dress day in and day out all summer long.

Why not give her the thrill of her sweet life and take her on a real vacation this year.

Why not slip off and forget about kitchen sinks and grocery bills? Why not meet new people and tramp all day just so you can kick off your shoes and wiggle your toes in a brook? Why not give your weary nerves a chance to relax so you can be your swell, good-natured self? Why not fall head-over-heels in love again with the wonderful girl your married? Why not—when it costs so downright little! Figure what you save on food and gas and light and you may even come out money ahead. Especially if you do your vacation-shopping through the Daily Freeman.

Get out your pencil and check the "going away" ads in this newspaper right now for what you need. Daily Freeman advertisers are offering sports togs, golf needs, fishing tackle, beach wear and loads of other things at special prices. You'll get the thrill of your life when you see how much you can buy for so little. But act now. Don't put it off a minute longer. A real vacation is a cheap investment this year And it never paid bigger returns.

Boiceville Camp Boys Are Busy

Shelton, June 15.—Lieutenant Sydney French and David Tillquist of Camp No. 2, C. C. C., spent the week-end at their homes in New York city and White Plains, respectively. Leader Clayton Christians of Krumville, one of the oldest members of Company 215 in point of service, has gone to the hospital at Ft. Jay for an operation. Howard Cross, formerly steward at the camp, also is a patient at Ft. Jay. Joseph Argo, storekeeper, has been spending a few days in New York city. Elman Tremper of Chichester, who will assume Clerk Agro's duties upon the latter's retirement from the service July 1, was in charge of supplies during the week-end. Thomas Mason, driver of one of the C. C. C. and a half trucks, left Boiceville Monday for Schenectady where he has secured employment. James Hasbrouck, steward, spent the week-end with his family at Mt. Tremper. Barracks No. 2, of which Patrick McLaughlin of Saugerties is the leader, won the efficiency plaque last week. First Cook John Malloy was in charge of the kitchen force Sunday. About 50 of the men remained in camp over the week-end, the remainder going to their homes in Ulster and nearby counties for a brief visit. The company strength is now at 163 men, a number which will be augmented in the near future by a new enrollment. As the Woodmen contact with positions in the outside world, their places are filled with recruits, most of whom are Ulster county youths. Quite a bunch of the fellows enjoyed the hospitality of "Bill" Gademian's Bushkill Inn Saturday night. Mr. Gademian, who is also proprietor of the canteen at No. 2, is a popular man at Boiceville. A new electric radio is expected to arrive shortly to replace the old battery set in the reception hall.

The extensive tree-planting program on state lands in Green county having been completed by the field force of the 215th Company, several crews are now engaged in blister rust control work in the vicinity of Tannersville and Hunter. The operations in this sector are being supervised by Forester Straight of the Department of Agriculture, who has his assistants, Messrs. McIntyre, Phillips, Craner, Short, Stewart and Knapp of the forestry branch of the state conservation department. Mr. Craner is department superintendent at Camp No. 2. There is also a crew working on trails, streams and the state camp in the Woodland Valley. The camping grounds in this sector of the picturesque Shandaken wilds is becoming increasingly popular with motoring and hiking parties. During the past year many residents of northern Ulster have become accustomed to frequenting this spot for Sunday picnics. Stone fireplaces and running water are included among the conveniences for campers at this isolated retreat, situated almost in the shadow of Slide Mountain and The Wittenberg.

Landscaping operations at Camp No. 2 continue, several fine bushes of laurel, pinksters and hydrangeas having been added to the plots last week. Lieutenant H. B. Whitman's dahlias also are looking their best in the bed on the south side of the administration building. It is planned to build a tennis court within a few days. "Ted" Gundersen of Saugerties has conceived an ambitious program for "doling up" the environs of the foresters' barracks with stone flower beds and ornamental shrubs. There appears to be no limit to the beautification ideas which regularly materialize at Ulster County's conservation corps camp. Visitors to the place are literally amazed at the striking changes in the appearance of the grounds and buildings which have taken place this spring.

SPECIAL SCHOOL MEETING HELD AT WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, June 15.—Thursday afternoon another special school meeting was held, the purpose of which was to determine what course to pursue, relative to providing housing facilities for the many children entitled to education in our school, who are being deprived thereof due to lack of room and teachers. Dr. Essex and Supt. Wallace J. Andrews came down from Albany to attend and lend their assistance. Dr. Essex advised the hiring of a room which would have to be adequately lighted, heated and provided with water and toilet facilities, and a teacher. This would indicate an expenditure of $2,000 to $2,500 a year and would necessitate a corresponding jump in the tax rate for the district. This was the natural junction for thoughts to revert to the centralization plan again.

Stanley Longyear asked if it was not true that the district schools would have to support themselves as well as the central school. Dr. Essex said that it was not. Carl Eric Lindin was of the opinion that it was time some people ceased to consider their pockets so and give thought to the rights of the children to some schooling. Dr. Essex skillfully averted further controversy by stating that he was for education and requested Postmaster Elwyn as a member of the committee for the centralized school to state how the situation stood. Mr. Elwyn reported that the petition for a central school has been signed by approximately 75 per cent of the Woodstock district, 55 per cent of the Zena district, 55 per cent of the Bearville district, 48 per cent of Shady district and that a few names had been secured from Lake Hill, Willow and Wittenberg. Dr. Essex thereupon said that he would ask Mr. Hickson of the State Department of Education to send a corps of men down to Woodstock to make a survey of the district to further plans in regard to centralization.

The meeting was adjourned soberly and without cavil.

Kenneth Fink.

SEEK ALL KIN OF JACQUES CARTIER

French Explorer to Be Honored by Means Town.

St. Malo, France.—A nationwide search is being made for descendants of Jacques Cartier, who was the first to claim French territory in Canada. If the search is successful these descendants will be invited to take part in the celebration in the principal French cities next August, to commemorate the four hundredth anniversary of his discovery and exploration of "New France," as Canada first was called. This was Cartier's home town.

An expedition of relics dealing with him, including parts of the craft in which he crossed the ocean, will be held in the museum here, and numerous festivals will evoke the daring, grandeur and nobility of the "founder of Canada."

The president of the Jacques Cartier centenary committee is Gabriel Hano-taux, the French minister who presided at the peace conference which terminated the Spanish-American war in 1898. This committee is sponsoring a Franco-Canadian cruise to the scene of Cartier's exploits. The cruise will leave France on a French liner August 18, and will follow the same itinerary that he did 400 years ago.

The first stop in Canada will be at Gaspé, where Cartier landed and planted the cross and the flag of France and claimed the territory for Francis I, king of France. Then the cruise will proceed up the St. Lawrence river, to Tadoussac, Quebec, Three Rivers and Montreal.

Cartier was born and died in St. Malo, and the town plans to send an official delegation to the Franco-Canadian ceremonies.

El Paso People Pay to Dig in City Dump Pile

El Paso, Texas.—More than a score of El Paso families pay 25 cents a day for the privilege of searching through the debris at the city dumps in order to keep "body and soul" together.

The money is paid to W. W. Baird, dump concession holder, for the privilege of hunting for scraps of metal, wood, paper and other things they can find that might be sold to a junk dealer for cash.

Sometimes the scavengers make a real find and cash in for more money than they invested for the privilege, Baird said. From time to time they pick up a piece of table silver, a ring, or some other object in the kitchen garbage.

The demand for the privilege of searching through the city dumps followed an estimate by sanitary department employees that El Pasoans lose at least $3,000 worth of articles, inadvertently dropped into garbage each year.

3,328 Miles of Railroad Junked in United States

St. Louis, Mo.—There were 3,328 miles of railroad abandoned in the United States in the years 1932 and 1933, which is more than the total mileage in any of 13 of the 48 states in the nation," said C. D. Morris, assistant to the chairman of the western railways' committee on public relations, Chicago, in an address before the Missouri Pacific club here.

"In 1933 alone the abandonment of rail mileage aggregated 1,576 miles, more than half of which, or 1,022 miles was in our western states. The mileage abandoned in the entire country in 1933 was equal to the total abandonment during the three years, 1926, 1927 and 1928, and was greater than the mileage abandoned in any one year in history prior to 1932, except in the single year 1921. The situation with respect to abandonment has been most acute in the western states."

This Is a Perfect Case of Goods Exchanging

Birmingham, England.—Tribesmen in the Solomon islands are now so busy making soap that they no longer have time to carve personal ornaments out of palmwood, and are buying brass ornaments from Birmingham as a substitute. This is thought to be the perfect case of fair international exchange, as the Birmingham people get dirty making brass ornaments to sell to the Polynesian who pay for the brass ornaments with soap to get the Birmingham people clean.

Shows Fish That Walks and Climbs

Fort Pierce, Fla.—A fish that walks and climbs and swims was caught in the Indian river recently—and the living proof can be seen in an aquarium improvised by the local chamber of commerce.

Seafarers have identified it as a Sargassum fish found in tropical waters of the Atlantic, principally the Sargassum weed area.

It has arm-like and leg-like appendages with projections resembling fingers and toes, used to walk upon the bottom of its tank and climb seaweed.

Although it is only an inch long, mariners, who claim to have seen its kind in the Sargassum sea on numerous occasions, say the nature specias will measure about six inches.

A boy caught it while fishing for shrimp.

Licking Postage Stamp

The general American practice of licking stamps to be affixed to an envelope or licking the envelope is looked down upon in most foreign countries. Native and the fingers in sand, when possible, is better.

White Duck Fitchers Trim Saugerties

Playing Thursday night at the White Duck court, the White Duck fitchers club defeated Saugerties, thus winning nine out of 10 games played. A return match will be played some time in the near future. Doc Brube, head of the White Duckers, is willing to stack his team against any in this vicinity. The lineup consists of Grube himself, Joe Fisher, John Swint and John Bailey.

Drum Corps Practice.
At the regular weekly practice of the American Legion drum corps to be held on Monday evening, June 18, every member is asked to be present. The corps will take part in the Hudson Valley Firemen's Convention parade to be held in Saugerties on Thursday, June 21. The corps will head Weimer Hose Company of this city.

Senecas Booked For St. Remy on Sunday

Sunday afternoon at St. Remy the village team will play the Kingston Senecas. Starting time of the game is 3 o'clock. Opposing batteries will be E. Back and W. Schumaker for the St. Remy club, Henry or Mahar, pitching and Al Short catching for the Senecas.

Tonight at St. Remy the Whitecats will play the Esopus nine.

BILLIARDS

Louis Auchmoody defeated Don Boyce, 10-7, Thursday night at Nick's in the junior billiard tournament. High runs were Auchmoody 13, Boyce 11. This evening, Bob Hart will play Reuben Lewis.

Rosendale Group To Meet on Monday

The Rosendale Township Association will hold its monthly meeting next Monday evening, June 18, at the Firemen's Hall in Rosendale.

Many important matters will be reviewed and discussed and it is urged that all members and prospective members attend.

A feature at the meeting will be a talk by Mr. Nadler of the J. F. Neocom Company of New York, one of the most widely known advertising companies in New York. John Van Gonsle, president of the Adirondack Short Line Bus Company, will also give a short talk.

The entertainment committee of the association has secured Mr. and Mrs. B. Hartman of Bloomington to entertain with piano and violin solos. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman have been featured on concert stages throughout the country. Miss Marion Clark, popular vocal artist from Ticonderoga, will render several solos.

South Rosendale M. E. Church.
The Ladies Aid of the South Rosendale M. E. Church will hold a supper Wednesday, June 20, in the church. The menu: corned beef, creamed potatoes, buttered beans, lettuce and tomato salad, biscuits, strawberry shortcake, tea and coffee.

When Britain's Next King Is Just One In Crowd

Championship golf is a serious business in England, to Prince and commoner alike. Since he quit the dangerous sport of riding to hounds, the royal and snicket game has become the chief relaxation and pleasure of the Prince of Wales and here, teeth clenched on a cold pipe, he is as tense as the galleyites who pay attention, not to their next king, but to a crucial putt.

Regatta Anyone's Race, But, Experts Like Bears, Huskies

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—A wide open tussle for the four-mile varsity championship of the Poughkeepsie regatta looked today as the seven contenders eased off training and prepared for the start tomorrow.

Among most experts, there was a disposition to ignore only Columbia in forecasting the possible winner although the two far western boatloads, Washington and California, still were rated favorites. Cornell and Syracuse, especially the latter, were figured as the main eastern hopes although both Navy and Pennsylvania were considered at least an outside chance of capturing the main prize.

Cornell's Time Best
Strictly on a time trial basis, Jim Wray's big Cornell eight deserved top ranking. The Ithacans were timed unofficially in 19 minutes, five seconds for the full course, fastest time of the pre-regatta training period. Washington's best time, in unofficial clockings, was 19:07; Navy's, 19:41; Penn., 19:50; California, 19:58; Syracuse, 20:07; and Columbia somewhat higher.

These figures give no real index of comparative strength, because of the variance in water conditions when the trials were rowed.

Syracuse Labors
Syracuse has worked hardest during the past few days and the Orange may turn out to be the crew to beat. The 84-year-old veteran, Jim Ten Eyck, coach of Syracuse, has given his boys no letup and they have been impressive in their late workouts.

The latest callower in betting odds established Washington a slight favorite with California, beaten by the Huskies earlier in the spring, the second choice.

Ithaca Jayvees Favored Cornell ruled a favorite for the three-mile junior varsity brush in which Navy, Syracuse, Columbia and California also are entered, and was co-favorite with Washington, for the two-mile freshman struggle. Columbia, Syracuse, Rutgers, and Pennsylvania also will be represented in the varsity race.

The freshman race will open the program at 4:45 p. m. (eastern standard), followed by the Junior varsity at 5:45 and the varsity at 6:45.

Battle of Bankers Scheduled Tonight

Because the carnival has blocked the main entrance to the Fair Grounds, supporters of the Downtown and Uptown Bankers who play their annual baseball game tonight at the Fair Grounds diamond, will find it necessary to make a short detour to reach the scene of action. From the traffic light at Washington and Lucas avenues go one block on Lucas avenue to Joy's Lane, turn right on Joy's Lane for a short distance and turn left into a dirt road which will lead to the right field fence of the Fair Grounds. A section of the fence has fallen down and it will be easy for cars to drive through into deep center field, where they may be parked beyond the reach of even the most powerful pen-pusher of either team.

Both managers report their charges in top form and "rarin' to go". The possible lineups for the teams will include Carl Will, John Henry, Wilbur Matthews, Gordon Craig, Harold Clayton, Bob Murray, E. Freese, Van Darrow and Walt Foster for the Wall Streeters, and Ernie LePever, Fred Becker, Charlie Turk, Nick Turk, Ed Mains, Fred Carpenter, Jim and Pete Kun, Fred Schoonmaker and Bill Tietel for the Rounders. The game is to start at 6:30. Batters have not been announced, possibly because it takes more than one set to each team for these titanic encounters.

Shelters Floating Rock

Rocks that float on water are among volcanic rock varieties that may be picked up in Hawaiian National park. Other curious rocks to be found in this region are specimens that can be heated and held in one's hand without injury, others that look like human hair, and still others that resemble wool fiber.

Schmeling-Neusel Bout.

Hamburg, Ger., June 15 (AP)—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Walter Neusel today signed contracts to meet in August in what the promoters advertised as an elimination bout for the right to meet Champion Max Baer at Miami, Fla., in February. The site of the fight was not announced.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Broca Blanks St. Louis, 7-0, Yanks Back To American Lead

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, SR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

In three games 27-year-old Johnny Broca, who took his degree as master of the art of throwing under Joe Wood at Yale, has become the reigning sensation of the American League. Yesterday he turned in a one-hit feat against the Browns that brought him his first major league victory by a 7-0 count.

Babe Hits 10th.

Babe Ruth also had his day when he started things off by hitting his tenth homer of the year with two aboard in first. But it was mostly Broca who led the Yanks back to the league lead. With the Detroit Tigers tied idle by rain at Boston, the triumph sent the Yanks into first place by the margin of four percentage points. The Browns dropped into a fifth-place tie with the Red Sox.

The pitchers stood out in yesterday's big league records with few exceptions. Cleveland and the Athletics didn't get much in the hurling line as the Indians hammered out an 11 to 7 triumph with the aid of two important homers by Hal Trosky.

In the National League St. Louis and Boston shelled each other's hurling for a total of 34 blows, including three Cardinal homers, a triple and ten doubles. The Cards came out with a 12-0 decision. The Cubs took the home run route to victory in a free-swinging contest, beating the Phillies 6-4 as circuit sways by Chuck Klein, Don Hurst and Babe Herman produced all the Chicago runs.

Giants Stay on Top.

But Hal Schumacher turned in a four-hit game, beating the Reds 3 to 0 to keep the Giants on top of the National. Monte Weaver of Washington granted the same number of blows in defeating the White Sox 5 to 1, and Brooklyn's Van Mungo granted the Pirates only five hits in ten innings and won out 3 to 2.

Capacity House Expected For Hayes-Torres Scrap Tonight

With everything all over in the heavyweight ranks and Max Baer the new champion, all sports here interested in fistfuffs have turned their eyes toward the big American Legion welfare show in the Municipal Auditorium tonight featuring Patey Hayes, Saugerties contender for the featherweight title, and Ernest Torres, Cuban slugger.

One of the largest turnouts of fight fans ever seen at the remodeled palace that once was the home of the 156th Field Artillery and National Guard boxing, is expected at the program run by the ex-servicemen, who are putting forth every effort to revive the manly art which has been on the wane and not so profitable as it once was.

The Legionnaires bank on Patey Hayes, that dynamic little puncher from Saugerties, to do the trick. Patey has been a redeemer for several New York clubs and is anxious to draw the Legion out of the slump. The advance sale of tickets indicates Kingston Post and Hayes will be satisfied.

Concerning the fight from a fistic standpoint, it promises to be one of those brawls packed with action, featuring Hayes the type of scrapper who goes out to "kill" from the first going on, and Torres, the durable pugilist who can take it as well as give. Patey says he'll knock out Ernie. Torres declares he'll win and take Hayes' place as one of the boxers nearest a crack at the chance for the feather title.

At the end of their training grind, both Hayes and Torres were said to be in the most perfect condition of their careers, ready to wage a stiff battle in their 10th rounder that should have the fans on their feet crying for knockout.

The supporting card:
Al Ragone, Brooklyn, vs. Demasoc Seda, New York, featherweights, six rounds.
Nick Zinna, formerly of Kingston, vs. Freddie Lewis, New York, welterweights, six rounds.
Tony Rodriguez, Kingston, vs. Freddy Sullante, New York, featherweights, six rounds.
Clem Smith, West Hurley, vs. Vic Neilson, Brooklyn, heavyweights, four rounds.

The New Heavyweight Champion

Baer Stops Carnera In 11th, Brings Heavy Title Back To U. S.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 15 (AP)—Reverberating today from the smashing savagery of the most spectacular battle of big men in nearly 11 years of ring history, the fight world acclaimed a new heavyweight champion of the world—Max Adelbert Baer of California, a curly-haired wolf of a man who combines a contemptuous grin and the stage mannerisms of a movie actor with a killing right hand punch.

With magnificent gestures, absolute disdain for anything his giant foe could do and a sporadic but vicious onslaught, Baer stopped the huge but helpless Primo Carnera in the 11th round of a 15-round match before a roaring crowd of 52,000 in Madison Square Garden's Long Island Bowl, thereby ending the Italian's one-year rule at the top of the heavyweight heap abruptly and bringing the crown back to the United States.

Max Hits Hard

Carnera was knocked down no less than 11 times from the force of Baer's smashing blows before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the one-sided affair, with only 44 seconds to go in the 11th round, and awarded the verdict to the broad-shouldered, 25-year-old American on a technical knockout.

The giant, 263 pound Italian was still on his feet at the finish, after bravely trying to continue against what he knew were overwhelming odds against him, but he was a bloody, reeling wreck of a fighting man and he was muttering "Ani—Ani!" in utter helplessness when the referee decided finally to halt the slaughter.

Down Three Times in 1st

Carnera was knocked down three times within the first minute of fighting as Baer loosed a succession of dynamite-laden right hands to the head, followed by bruising lefts to the body. The Italian was down three times again in the second round, with Baer rolling on top of him as they waged the wildest kind of a melee. For the seventh time in three rounds, the giant was flopped to his haunches in the third, still too bewildered to take anything like a count and recover his wits. He rallied bravely for the next few rounds but in the eighth he sprawled full-length to the floor from the force of an ineffectual lunge.

Only the bell saved Primo from a knockout in the tenth round, at one stage of which Donovan stepped between them and changed his mind after giving every indication of his intention to stop the fight. Twice in this round and twice more, in the eleventh, the toppling tower of Italy went down under crushing blows. Absolutely dazed, his face a blotchy red from the terrific pounding he had received and his features distorted in grotesque bewilderment, Carnera was led stumbling from the ring after the most severe beating any heavyweight champion has absorbed since Jack Dempsey pounded Jess Willard into a bloody pulp in three rounds at Toledo in 1919.

Sensational Victory

For the thrills of savage conflict and the roar of the crowd for the "kill," Baer's stunning victory surpasses anything that has happened among heavyweights since Dempsey knocked out Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine in two spectacular rounds at the Polo Grounds in 1922.

The Californian's lopsided mastery of the giant furnished the climax to one of the most extraordinary of all heavyweight title matches. Declared unfit to fight by one of New York's boxing commissioners, Bill Brown, only a week ago, Baer not only enjoyed the last big laugh but convincingly demonstrated that the "wise money" knew where it was going when a belated flood of wagering sent the challenger to the right: a 5 to 6 shot to capture the championship.

Carnera's Game

Only Carnera's gallantry under the heaviest fire of his career, together with Baer's tactics in more-

ly stalking his big opponent until such times as he chose to turn loose his belting fury, kept the fight from ending in short order.

There was never much question about the outcome after the first few slashing right hands bowled Carnera off his feet. Although the big man continually did nearly all the leading, while Baer backed slowly away or side-stepped with the ease of a dancer, there was no time when Primo's stiffest left jabs or faltering right hand uppercuts caused Baer to do anything but make a derisive face.

Altogether, it was one of the most amazing performances ever witnessed in a championship bout, alternately comic with Baer's clowning and tragic for the reeling giant who was trying to ward off the inevitable with the last vestiges of his physical equipment. All that Carnera had left was his bulk and it was slowly being beaten into insensibility at the finish.

The Associated Press score-sheet of the fight gave Baer only six of the eleven rounds, with four going to Carnera and one rated even but even this didn't mean much on the basis of what happened in the ring whenever the challenger started blasting operations. Max won the first three rounds, the fifth and the last two. Carnera was given the 4th, 7th and 9th purely on points.

The 8th was officially credited to Carnera by the referee's action in penalizing Baer for hitting low with a left hook to the body. The sixth round was called even.

The gross gate receipts of $428,392.50 marked the biggest "gate" since the first Sharkey-Schmeling fight in 1920 and marked another big upturn for the fight industry, with a new champion ready to seek fresh social and theatrical conquests as well as greateristic laurels.

Harvard jury prefers men to women radio announcers. Public prefers peace to either.

Waitress Primo Jilted Says Max Was Unfair

"He Tried to Make Primo Look Foolish," Says Words of Emotion Tried—Remained Up Until 3 a. m. to Read Fight Reports.

By GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

London, June 15 (AP)—Miss Emilia Tersini, the raven-haired young waitress who saw to it that Primo Carnera collected none of the proceeds for the battering he took last night, insisted excitedly today that "Baer didn't fight fair."

"He tried to make Primo look foolish," exclaimed Emilia, who didn't exactly see the fight, being some 3,000 miles away. But she stayed up until 3 a. m. to read the results on a ticker in an express office.

New York lawyers at the instance of Miss Tersini tied up Carnera's share of the proceeds, since the recent heavyweight champion for some months has owed her $15,000, she was awarded in a breach of promise suit.

Hope alternated with despair on her face as the fight progressed and at the end she sank her face in her hands.

"Baer fouled him," she shouted, "why didn't they disqualify him. It's a shame. I know Primo can beat him. I still believe in Primo." Miss Tersini won her suit in July, 1933. Among letters from Primo read at the trial was one saying: "You can live tranquilly because I will not have another girl but you. They are all an aversion to me. They frighten me, all but you. You will be my wife before a year."

Klick and Canzoneri Stayed away from Fight

Although the fistic world was well represented at the Baer-Carnera fight in Madison Square Garden last night, there were two great battlers who were conspicuous by their absence. These were Tony Canzoneri and Frankie Flick, the latest star to flash upon the fistic horizon.

Klick and Canzoneri are training for their contest in Ebbets Field on June 27, which is to decide the next lightweight opponent for Barney Ross, the double title-holder.

Both Klick and Canzoneri preferred to stay in their training camps and attend to the business of conditioning themselves rather than attending last night's championship battle, even though they were the invited guests of the Garden.

THE Spotlight BY GRANTLAND RICE

After Old Man Time.

Four young men are going after one another—and Old Man Time—at Princeton tomorrow.

In the mile event Bill Bonthron of Princeton and Glenn Cunningham of Kansas will settle the big argument they started last winter when each won a race by a margin no wider than a thin cracker.

They will have Gene Venzke of Pennsylvania along but unless there is a big upset Gene's main job will be to set a fast early pace.

One of the main ideas of this Princeton party was to see just what Bonthron and Cunningham could do with Lovelock's brilliant record—breaking run of a year ago when he traveled the classic distance in 4:57.5, with Bonthron in close pursuit, even against this killing pace.

There has been a general feeling that some one is going to set the mile record around 4:58 before very long—and here are the two equipped for the job if everything happens to be the right way.

It is a personal race and a time-testing race, which has attracted wide attention. It will be a great race, even if a record isn't broken, since both Bonthron and Cunningham are not only stayers, but both have the needed sprint through the stretch—one element Venzke has lacked so far. At least in comparison with this pair.

The Half-mile.

There will be another great race, over the half-mile route, when big Ben Eastman of Stanford books up with Horrobbel of Indiana.

Eastman is a great half-miler—one of the best that ever traveled this distance. But so is Horrobbel, the Hoosier Flyer, who has run the half around 1:50.

Here again there is the chance that a new record will be set at the middle distance.

So Princeton will be a big sport center on Saturday. A crowd of more than 20,000 is expected—which is something of a record itself for a track meet with so few entries. There will be other races of note—but these are the two main features.

Either may tell a story, which will become part of sport history. (Copyright, 1934, by GRANTLAND RICE)

Murphy and Boice Elected as Captains

Johnny Murphy Chosen as Leader
For 1935 Baseball Varsity—That Key Boice Captain of Track.

At a recent meeting of the Kingston High School baseball team, the members of the varsity elected Johnny "Powder" Murphy to the captaincy of the team for 1935. Murphy was the varsity second baseman on the team this year and was the lead-off man in the batting order. He succeeded in getting a hit in all but two of the games this past season, going hitless in only the Middletown and Port Jervis contests. He is one of the most consistent, most durable players on the team and is well fitted for the captaincy.

Recently, Charley Boice was chosen by the track team to the captaincy of the 1935 track team. Boice was the discus thrower on this year's team. At the N. Y. M. A. meet at Cornwall, Boice threw the discus for 104 feet to take first place and to win his letter.

New Paltz Normal School Activities

New Paltz, June 15.—Bessie Good of New York, who completed her studies in the Normal in January and has since been attending New College, Columbia University, has returned to New Paltz for the graduation exercises.

A wide variety of courses will be offered this year in summer school which will open July 2. The entrance fee will be twenty dollars.

Edgar V. Beebe's specialized psychology class visited Letchworth Village Tuesday.

The last meeting of Sigma Pi Sigma for the school year was held at the home of Mrs. Marie Collis.

The underclassmen of Pi Sigma Lambda gave a formal dinner in honor of the outgoing seniors last week.

Harold C. Storm, graduate of New

Paltz Normal class of 1928, will graduate from New York University Wednesday, June 12. He now holds the position of principal of the Arlington District No. 7, Delmar county.

Commencement day was held in the gym Saturday night, June 15. Pauline Huber and Peg Morpison were in charge of the decorations, assisted by the Art Department and Professor Beebe's specialized psychology class. In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Vandenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar V. Beebe, Dean Miss Grace MacArthur and Walter Joy, the class president, and Miss Blanche Stickle. Others attending were the senior class, members of the Glee Club and others. Music was furnished by the Ambassadors from Fort Jervis. The dance began at 8 o'clock and continued until 2. There are 255 graduates this year. The 48th annual commencement exercises were on Tuesday, June 12, at 10:30 a. m. The address was given by Dr. Ned H. Dearborn, Professor of Education at New York University. The program was as follows: Processional, Normal School orchestra; invocation, the Rev. William Humphrey; selection, "Enchanted Forest," orchestra; introduction, Principal Lawrence H. Vandenberg; valedictory, Myrtle Thompson; selection by the Normal School Glee Club; address to graduates by Dr. Dearborn; presentation of diplomas, the Hon. G. D. B. Hasbrouck, president of these local board of education; benediction, the Rev. William F. Brown, of New Paltz Episcopal Church; recessional.

Italian Greyhounds Not Common

Italian greyhounds are far from being common in the state. Their popularity in the East is greater than in any other section and here they are found gracing many of the estates surrounding metropolitan centers.

WHY

Names "Hoosier" Is Applied to People of Indiana

Some farcical explanations of the origin of the term "Hoosier" have been offered, says the Indianapolis News. Meredith Nicholson, in his volume, "The Hoosier," discussed most of them. The earliest record of the use of the word is thought to be John Finley's poem, "The Hoosier's Nest." It was argued that the word must have been well known at that time or Finley would not have used it with as much of a flourish as it was used. Such authorities as Governor Wright and the Indiana historian, O. H. Smith, were convinced that Hoosier is a corruption of the pioneer greeting, "Who's here?" Sugrove, another writer of Indiana history, alluded to the explanation that the word is a development from hush, a term given in pioneer times to a good fighter who was able to hush his adversaries, and was applied to "greenies from the New Purchase" who went down to the Ohio river to work, and fought laborers from Kentucky. There seems also to be some support for the explanation that it is a mispronunciation of hunsar popularized by a Polish colonel who lectured through the state in the early days. It presumes that young Indiana men were captivated by the hunsars as pictured by the lecturer, and took the name and pronunciation upon themselves. Hoosier was a family name heard along the river, and another explanation is that the fondness of Indiana people for cookies made by a Louisville baker named Hoosier gained them the distinction of being called "Hoosier's customers," and finally, Hoosiers.

Why Horses Need Drink

of Water at Proper Time

With Old Dobbin making a comeback on farms and many city folks moving to farms the proper care of the horse takes on new importance. Besides being housed and well fed, horses must get plenty of water and at the proper times. Even some folks who have handled horses all their lives do not know when or how often work horses should be watered. Animal husbandry experts advise that horses which have been deprived of water for a long period or those which have been worked hard should be watered before eating. It is dangerous, however, to allow an animal to drink too heavily when it is very warm or overheated. Give them just a little sip and then take them back for more when they have cooled off. A very bad practice is to water a horse heavily just before putting him to work. It is always better to water frequently than to let the animal go without for a long time and then allow him to gorge himself.

The average horse requires from 10 to 12 gallons of water daily. And horses, like people, like a drink after their evening meal of roughage.

Why Quarters Have No Dates

Rumors have been spread that quarters without dates are either counterfeit or were made abroad and smuggled in. Reports like these are false, says Pathfinder Magazine. Not only would it be a hard matter to move any considerable amount of coins from one country to another without attracting the attention of the authorities, but such coins would be brand new. There is no record of any American receiving a new dateless quarter. According to the bureau of the mint, quarters of the old design had the date on a raised surface where it rapidly wore off. The new design has it on a more protected field. All such coins still in circulation are legal tender.

Why Road-Building Was Slow

The people who settled Virginia lived on large estates and plantations and had all their work done for them. In addition, the people in Virginia until the end of the Seventeenth century lived close to the water and depended almost entirely upon water methods of transportation. By 1600 there were about 60,000 people in Virginia, all of them within reach of the water. By the middle of the Eighteenth century there were still only a few wheeled vehicles and sedan chairs in Virginia and Maryland.

Why Milk Is Hard to Churn

It is a well-known fact that milk from a cow which is far advanced in the period of lactation is harder to churn than that from a cow which has more recently freshened. This is due to a gradual change which occurs in the cow as the period of lactation progresses. The effects may be at least partially overcome by adding before ripening some cream from a cow that is not far advanced in the period of lactation.

Why Collar Has White Lines

Why a sailor's collar has white lines on it is a somewhat difficult question to answer, as the authorities do not seem to agree, says London Tit-Bits Magazine. Some, however, state that the lines represent the three great naval victories of Nelson—the battles of Trafalgar, Copenhagen, and the Nile—and are there to keep alive the memory of these events.

Why Honorary Degree Is Given

An honorary degree is a public recognition by university authorities of some outstanding service to society. It has no official meaning. If an honorary degree such as LL. B. is conferred, it would not entitle that person to practice law, if he could not otherwise, as one must be a member of the bar of the state in which he lives to practice.

Arrange Reception For Destroyer Talbot

The local committee, recently appointed by Mayor C. J. Helmsman to welcome the U. S. Destroyer Talbot, met at the city hall Thursday evening to formulate plans for entertaining the officers and crew of the destroyer while it is here. The destroyer will arrive here on Sunday, June 16 for a three days' visit. Hours for the general public to inspect the vessel will be announced later, and also the complete plans for entertaining the officers and crew.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, June 15.—Route Ward of Madison, commissioner of highway, was supervising work on the county road between Plattekill and Arden during the past week. The "Villa Madrid" presents a spiffy appearance by having the exterior painted. Mrs. Marina Whitmore and Miss Myra Powell were visitors in Kingston last week.

Odd Name for Tree
"Woman's tongue" is the name given a small shade tree of the tropics, because the dry pods clatter noisily when a breeze blows.

Treasure Hunt is Bailed by Monster

Cornelia, Italy.—Fortune hunters seeking a long-lost treasure in a ruined middle-age castle have been scared off in their search because they became convinced the treasure—if it exists—is guarded by a monster of pre-historic proportions.

Five peasants invaded the old castle once occupied by the Lord of Guidi hoping to find the large fortune in jewels believed buried in the cellars. Near the entrance of the "treasure chamber" one of their number shrieked frantically and fainted. The others fled.

The man who fainted described the mysterious beast as "sort of a bull, without horns, but as big as four ordinary bulls." He said the animal bellowed furiously.

MEDICAL SCIENCE IS THWARTED BY STRANGE DISEASES

Fate of "Stone Boy" Sealed; Rare Blood Disorder Dooms Children.

Chicago.—Men of science, weary from peering through microscopes and handling countless test tubes, stand helpless as the specter of death looms ever-larger for victims of strange, rare maladies that defy the keenest medical and surgical brains. In Chicago and New York, in New Orleans and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., dread diseases are slowly, but inevitably draining life from doomed patients.

Benny Hendricks, the "stone boy" of Wilkes-Barre, is becoming petrified, a living mass of granite, as doctors stand helplessly by, unable to restore the glow of health to his youthful cheeks.

And even as little Benny's body hardens, five young victims of an astounding blood disease are slipping closer to the grave's brink. They are the five youngsters, in various parts of the country, who are afflicted with lymphatic leukemia, the disorder that causes an excessive number of white corpuscles to appear in the blood stream to destroy the red corpuscles.

Sleep is Unbroken. Baffled and balked by these rare physical disturbances, the nation's scientific men also confess their inability to rouse Patricia Maguire of Oak Park, Ill., from the sleep that has gripped her for more than two years.

At their wits' end in this battle with the abnormalities nature has visited on its human victims, science finds its only ray of hope in the success that has been achieved in the treatment of Gertrude Siers, Chicago telephone operator. She developed profuse and uncontrollable bleeding of the nose, eyes, mouth and ears as the aftermath of a cold. Medical men called the malady a rare blood stream affliction, technically known as thrombocytopenic purpura. The most scholarly medical men confess they don't know what causes the disease.

Bleeding to Death.

In treating Miss Siers they did know, however, that the bleeding took place through the walls of the more fragile blood vessels because of a deficiency of platelets in the blood stream. These platelets are tiny ovals or disks of protoplasm, less than one-third the size of red corpuscles, which have the property of causing corpuscles to coagulate at the points where the vessels are punctured.

Confronted with this critical case, physicians treating the patient at Holy Cross hospital, Chicago, ordered blood transfusions and more blood transfusions. More than fifteen of these transfusions were given as the doctors replaced the blood deficient in platelets with healthy blood.

Though Miss Siers lost more than fifteen pounds in nine days and absorbed more than ten quarts of blood into her system, she conquered the dread malady. It was her victory over this strange disease that brought renewed hope to doctors seeking to combat the rare maladies that have claimed so many victims.

Turkish Girl's Snake Is Turned Down by "Vet"

Istanbul, Turkey.—A pretty, young Turkish society woman started the Istanbul veterinary hospital by bringing in a 12-foot snake for treatment.

The veterinary surgeons protested that they only treated domestic animals.

"But this is a domestic snake," asserted the lady. "I have seven at home crawling about the house. They are quite harmless."

But when the snake showed its fangs, the surgeons decided that it was not domestic enough for them to handle.

Turkish David Harum Lost His Life in Trade

Istanbul, Turkey.—The moral of this little tale is that a skinny wife is better than a new coat.

Tevabil, a Turkish water seller in Anstolia, had a twenty-year-old wife named Umihau. She began to lose weight, and his earnings were not sufficient to provide her with medical treatment.

Three of his men friends suggested he sell his wife to them, and Tevabil eventually parted with her for a new jacket.

His smarter appearance increased his sales, but not long after the "swap" the wife buyer cut his throat.

Skidmore President For Commencement

Following the custom of former years of having the high school commencement address given by a college president, Henry Thomas Moore, Ph. D., president of Skidmore College, was secured to give the commencement address to the Kingston high school graduating class of this year. Commencement will take place Tuesday evening, June 26, in the new Municipal Auditorium. The valedictorian of the class will be Morris I. Michael who had a four years average of 94.375 per cent. The salutatorian will be Habeeb Maroon, senior president, who had a four years average of 94.197 per cent. The Baccalaureate Service will be held Sunday evening, June 24, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The Rev. C. S. Brown of the Wurts Street Baptist Church will give the address.

Class Day will be held Monday, June 25, in the high school auditorium. Senior president, Habeeb Maroon, will preside, introducing the speakers. Class Day is open to the public, with a nominal admission fee being charged.

The annual Commencement Dance will be held Wednesday evening, June 27. The committee in charge headed by Don Clark has selected Ray Randall and his orchestra to furnish the music. The dance is open to all members of the student body and alumni.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, June 15.—Mrs. MacDowell of Newburgh, formerly Miss Ruth Hasbrouck of New Paltz, attended the wedding of her cousin, Laura Hasbrouck, and Franklin Dwight in town last Tuesday.

The Pucino family of Plutarch have moved to Jersey City.

Children's Day will be observed in the reformed Church Sunday, June 17.

Miss Edna Cestar has opened her tea room near Lloyd.

Tuesday night, June 5, the Board of Education held a special meeting to decide whether to add an agriculture course in the Centralized High School or not. A similar meeting was held a month ago and ended without a final decision. At the meeting on Tuesday night the board voted to do so. The course will be self-sustaining with Federal and state aid after the first year. The money spent the first year will be returned following the year in additional state aid.

Mrs. William Kaiser, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Mrs. Julia Buckmaster and Mrs. Fred Coulter, New Paltz members of the Highland Order of Eastern Star, attended the 25th anniversary of Clinton Chapter in Kingston on Friday night, June 8.

Miss Margaret Hasbrouck entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilklow of Lloyd over the week-end.

The next meeting of the Queen Esther Club of Highland will be held at the home of Miss Edith Dickinson on the New Paltz and Highland road.

Mr. and Mrs. Laura Abrams and son of Highland, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Abrams Monday evening.

Mrs. David J. DeBols of New Paltz was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Highland Wednesday afternoon, June 13.

Miss Alice McDonald, Mrs. Glenn Clark, Mrs. Arthur Clark and Mrs. Frederick Thiel of Milton, attended the Lantern Service at the Normal Thursday evening.

On Saturday, June 9, the Misses Blanche Gular, Elaine Kaiffen, Joyce Mutterstock and Clarence King, William Hasbrouck, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Mutterstock attended the Area Epworth League Conference in the Clinton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church in Kingston.
